1. We've got @dananessel, killin' like usual on messaging w @HallieJackson on @MSNBC stating, objectively (accurately) that if SCOTUS were to grant the relief sought by TX & these other states & invalidate the votes of millions of Americans due to COMPLETELY FABRICATED claims of

2. of fraud, it would be the end of democracy in America. PERIOD. It would serve, functionally, as the moment of SC's succession, Dec 20, 1860 & also as a function of anti-democratic, unpatriotic, and TREASONOUS behavior post a presidential election they simply didn't want to

3. accept and spend 4 years living under. So instead, they "invalidated" it by refusing to continue to be part of the U.S. Here, if the Court was to play along (and to be crystal clear, the ONLY constitutional, pro-America position here is a full and unequivocal rejection of this

4. suit and frankly, a "supreme" legal tongue lashing at the ideologues that now control the modern Republican Party and by controlling it, have now forced the United States of America into its first constitutional crisis since the fields of her were strewn with bodies and blood

5. as she ripped herself apart to rid herself of her original sin of slavery, and in that process lost 620,000 Americans which at that time was 2% of the country's population. That Trump & his good squad fabricated a story of trucks in the night sneaking in 100Ks worth of ballots

6. to steal Trump's "rightful throne" is one thing. That people like @tedcruz and @senatemajldr are allowing him to spread it and infect the Republican electorate with it like a disease is entirely another. Yesterday, @GOPLeader Kevin McCarthy allowed 106 of his House Caucus

7. members, including heir-apparent and member of leadership @SteveScalise to submit an amicus to support an act of judicial activism that would literally, LITERALLY unilaterally end democracy in the United States (that is actually more treasonous than backing your state out of

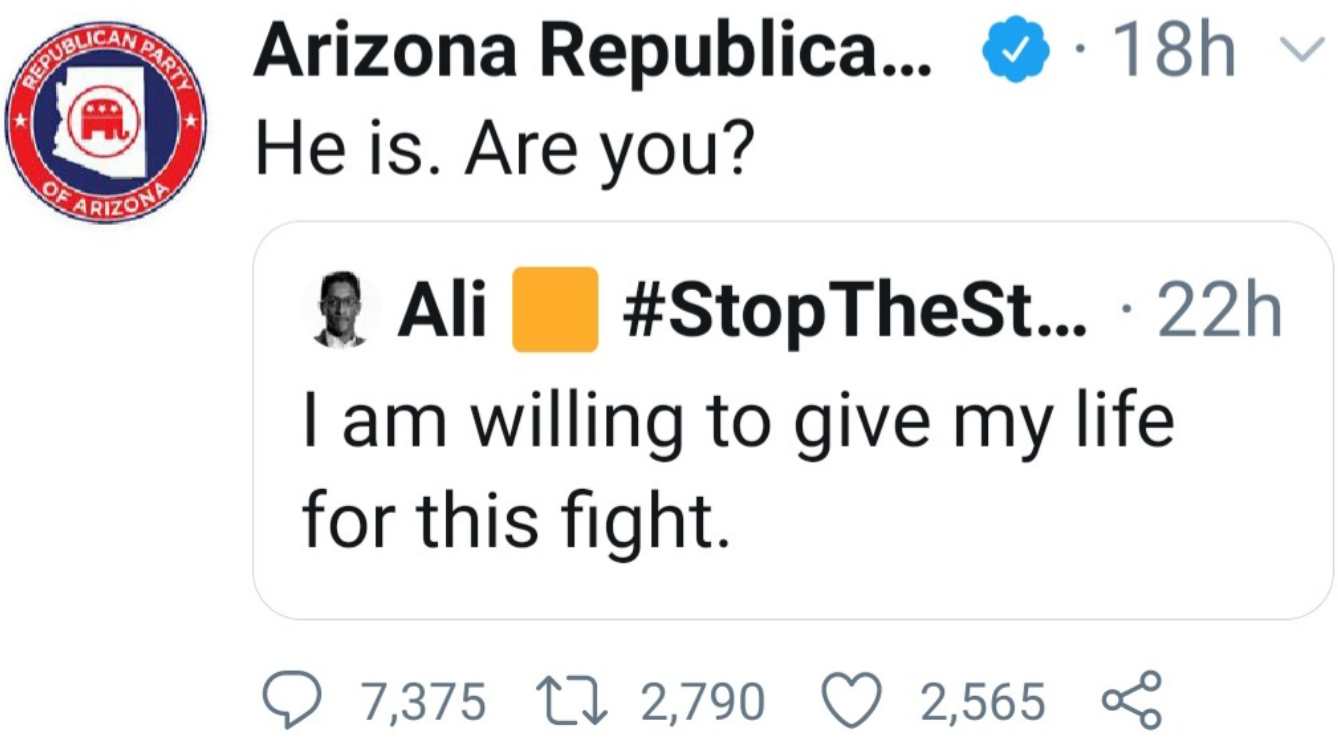

8. the Union!) Yes, that's correct @GOP. At least half of your party is right now, actively working towards or advocating for ending democracy for claims that are, and this definitive, completely fabricated by Donald Trump once he would tell no one was biting on his more modest

9. lies about vote switching machines and mail-in ballots from dead people. That's when Giuliani and Trump & that crazy lady just dropped, out of NOWHERE their new theory, that actually in the dead of the night fake mail-in ballots were dropped off in the cities of the swing

10. states and that how in PA and MI he got trounced even though he got trounced bc there are actual voters casting those 100k+ margins. And the Rep Party, its members, its party leadership, its dignitaries, they can see what god bless him @MittRomney sees. They KNOW ITS CRAZY.

11. But they are spreading it anyway. They are adding to this mental infection gripping the Republican electorate anyway. And where do they expect this to end when they have this voter base that has gone full Jim Jones and has a leader who is willing to send them out into the

12. streets to die for him. BC don't think for one sec that Trump didn't smile that ear to ear creepy ass loony smile he gets when someone shows him Kim Jung Il fealty like this f'd up tweet that the Rep Party CHAIR in AZ posted. If the Rep Party was not fully in the grips of an

13. extremist meltdown, one that is being aided and abetted by three ley principles who are going to be held to account for the actions (or inactions) they are taking RIGHT NOW (@GOPLeader @senatemajldr and @GOPChairwoman) who didn't demand that @kelliwardaz step down IMMEDIATELY

14. who didn't demand that all party chairs conduct themselves in ways that discourage violence, who haven't addressed Biden as president elect, who haven't held a presser to explain to their constituency that the Republican Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency Head,

15. Trump's OWN appointee, @C_C_Krebs has pronounced this cycle the most secure ever, AG Barr begrudgingly admits there was no fraud, that random recounts have actually shown us MORE sunlight into the election results than we've ever had & for those that understand the issues

16. you can't help but come out of this cycle more confident in the actual integrity of at least the "ballot cast ballot counted" part of the process. @senatemajldr, @GOPLeader, and @GOPChairwoman need to make this speech bc right now, danger is brewing & if it manifests the

17. blood of the people killed with not just be on Trump's hands. Oh no. Just as responsible will be @senatemajldr, @GOPLeader, and @GOPChairwoman who unlike the rest of us HAVE POWER to prevent this. Have power to save democracy. HAVE POWER to mitigate the damage that Trump is

18. doing to this democracy- damage that may well never be undone. Damage that insults the sacrifice of EVERY solider who has died in her defense Mitch. And I promise you, if you fail in this moment like you have failed UP TO this moment, every American will know the story.
