Consider this: we've been told this is all a show, right? We've all been hypnotized (NOT asleep) for decades, and the spell is being broken, albeit slowly. These people are being forced to "out" themselves to wake us up. They were given a choice- play the role of your life, (1)

...or face much harsher consequences for their crimes against humanity. They've been acting for decades, and maybe there was some hypnosis mixed in to make sure they don't break character. It's done with their consent-remember, they're facing their sentence for their CAH. (2)

They chose to either have all of their CAH aired, or provide community service such as they're doing. Do you really think all of these people got where they are by doing such blatantly stupid shit? Nope, it's part of the movie titled "WAKE THE FK UP, PEOPLE!" (3)

How do you get busted trying to funnel money through 'foreign aide', (and wasn't it the longest bill is history? Maybe close? That certainly called attention to it, didn't it?) and then continue to defend it lol? How about the nipple rings, Pelosi's hair cut, ad nauseam? (4)

The MSM rakes the POTUS over the coals- I'm onto this shit and I fell victim to it. Every person that hates DT (who loved him before the MSM told us to hate him) is going to be vindication that will replenish him when he drops the mother lode. (5)

He knows this- their hatred doesn't even phase him, because he's playing a role, too, and he already knows how this movie ends. We are building up to the climax, which will be the 6th. Notice the bombs are getting bigger and louder? (6)

Do we really believe that DT, who is sacrificing everything for the entire world, would let tainted vaccines roll out? What would be the purpose of his showing us all this, just to keep us enslaved- just rubbing our noses in it? Nah. They were getting away with it all, why (7)

...out themselves? Remember that the National Guard is comprised of mostly PATRIOTS from our own communities with families and jobs in the cities they are activated in. They'd never turn on their own communities to follow bullshit orders- never. IOW, they're not being (8)

...staged to enslave us, because that will never happen, they'd be signing their own sentence, condemning their own families. We are impatient because we see what's happening, we want to get on with it, but we can't because we need everyone awake. While we wait, (9)

...our minds get the better of us. While we wait, the shills are working hard to make us question the POTUS' intentions. That's where the next section comes in- it's about to get deep. (10)

We are actors in this movie, too. Our brains are the projector, and "all the world is a stage". We are watching the movie while simultaneously taking part in it, and our minds decide the plot. But we are also the writer and director, and can change the story at any... (11)

...time. What you believe, you perceive- that's not just a catchy hippie dippie saying, it's the law- and only law- of this reality. This is what free will is. Your choices are: you choose, or you let others choose for you. You choose and create your own reality, (12)

...you choose the timeline someone else is on because it looks interesting to you, or you don't choose, and that's how we got into this mess to start with. The nefarious know how this reality works, that's why they work so hard to capture our attention and program our (13)

...thoughts for us, so that we manifest their reality for them. The biggest threat to their existence is us figuring out we hold the power, and by realizing our minds create reality, we take that power back. But here's some good news: (14)

The programming is very short-lived, which is why they have to repeat it over and over again. Everyone is just one realization, one idea away from breakthrough. It can happen at any second, and you probably won't see it coming. It might be a song, a snippet of (15)

...conversation you overhear- could come from anywhere. To expand your mind and your abilities, you simply need to ask of everything you see/read/hear/believe- "what if this isn't true". You simply need to look at everything without attachment to the energy behind it, or the (16)

...outcome. But you can also play along if you choose. To not play is like starting up a video game and then just letting your character stand there. We're in this reality for a reason, to not participate is silly. BUT, there are ways to (17)

...participate that make it a LOT more fun. Dig in, learn how it works, what the rules are, how to master each level. If you want to sit and just watch, that's fine, it's even fine if you want to play the victim, but realize it doesn't happen to you, you choose what (18)

...you experience. The LOA is the next level, and the edge we're standing on right now. There are infinite timelines to choose from. Every timeline has its own vibration, and your vibration matches you to the levels you vibe with. If you need to know what level (19)

...you're on, look around you, because you created everything. (20)

Being in a state of Joy is the key to unlocking the really fun levels where you can manifest easily and instantly. And understand this: you are manifesting your reality 100% of the time, no exceptions. Take some time to dig into quantum physics so you understand how (21)

...none of this is even real in the way you think it is. Remember, your brain is nothing but a projector, your Mind creates the movie, and you're the writer, director, producer, and star. (22)

So, let's apply all of this to our current situation we're perceiving. Is DT a White Hat, or a Black Hat? You decide, and whatever you decide will be the timeline you solidify for yourself. But these timelines are never set in stone, and you intrinsically know this. (23)

How many times have you changed your mind about something, then watched your reality shift and change, sometimes in absolutely shocking ways? A timeline shift isn't some grand affair, it happens so seamlessly you don't even notice, because every thought you think changes (24)

...the timeline you're on, and we wouldn't be able to function if we glitched every single time we had a thought. Nothing exists beyond what you can see, because as proven by the double-slit experiment, nothing solidifies until it's observed. New thread ■■ (25)

> So sitting right where you are in this moment, you can choose what timeline to jump onto, and the stronger your belief in it is, the faster it will manifest. How do you strengthen your belief? By exposing yourself to the ideas you\u2019re trying to manifest. That\u2019s why (26)
