Vault has landed what always seemed to be impossible: a whole-of-government cloud deal with an Australian Government.

With Ex ASIO Boss on the board as a director with Jane Halton as Chair.

We are being databased, and profiled.

Here is the kicker.

Microsoft's Azure had been given 'Protected' status by the Australian Signals Directorate.

Palentir is funding the Australian Signals Directorate.

Israel-linked CIA-funded Palantir goes public, making espionage mainstream

Imagine giving permission for your movements and your contacts, including those unknown to you, to be tracked via your mobile phone every time you leave the house.

It may sound more like a dystopian vision. It may also become a practical trade-off
