I'm happy to state on record that @AllisonPearson has been conducting a months-long hate campaign against public health officials and scientists. THREAD:

1/ Allison claims that the government had been "Captured by tunnel-visioned autistic scientists" [Tweet later deleted]

Allison Pearson
@allisonpearson

The Government has been captured by tunnel-visioned autistic scientists who happily see family life & everything we love destroyed to fight the only disease in town.

Meanwhile, 56,000 excess deaths in private homes of people too scared to go to hospital.

@BBCr4today has been talking to the swivel-eyed scientist John Edmunds. Thumps radio.
Edmunds started off advocating herd immunity in March - why not press him on that?
Now he wants the hardest possible lockdown.
These scientists are not trustworthy.

Why can't we have David Paton doing the TV briefings rather than those shifty government scientists?

5/ Deputy CMO Jonathan Van-Tam is "revolting".

<https://t.co/9cyJdZcjDZ>

How revolting are those men with their matey 'JVT' and 'Steve'?
It's a game to them. Destroying people's lives with pointless lockdowns for what?
And Manchester looks to have passed the peak of this swell. Epic stupidity.

Let's hope @RishiSunak has locked Whitty and Vallance in a cupboard and put the key down his pants.

This would only make sense if 99.8% of people who get Covid didn't survive. The 500,000 figure is totally discredited. High time that Whitty and Vallance were sacked. <https://t.co/NBsVaFCmrF>

Luke Johnson @LukeJohnsonRCP · Oct 23, 2020

Why are members of SAGE permitted to speak to the media individually whenever they like? They are privileged advisors to govt - BBC etc take their pronouncements as gospel - but these are not official statements. It's havoc and typical of govt chaos.

14/ Repeated themes of dehumanising and bullying comments run through Pearson's Telegraph columns, too.

Consider that grim press conference given by the Government's Chief Scientific Adviser and the Chief Medical Officer. Talk about an odd couple: imagine how Bill and Ben would have ended up if neither had got off with Little Weed. What was made all too clear by Whitty and Vallance is that SAGE is still giving credence to the madcap guesses (Oops, sober mathematical models) of Imperial College's Professor Neil Ferguson, he of the "500,000 Covid dead" forecast.

15/ Whitty, Vallance and SAGE should be "charged with high treason"

<https://t.co/Xd6HkNMle8>

I remember how much I liked watching those early press briefings with Professor Chris Whitty and Sir Patrick Vallance, summoned from their labs to interpret the pandemic for the public. Reassuringly odd, the pair were oddly reassuring. Now, I think they and the rest of Sage (the Scientific Advisory Group) should be taken to the Tower and charged with high treason for destroying the futures of our children.

16/ "Tunnel visioned doomster scientists"

<https://t.co/Xd6HkNMle8>

Wow. Who do you believe? The tunnel-visioned doomster scientists intent on shutting down society until their insane quest to "defeat" the virus is over (it will never be over) or the whistleblower collecting data from the real world and rejoicing that the damn thing is on the run so lockdown is unnecessary?
