My 2 cents.

After what we have witnessed over the last 4 years, it should be grossly obvious to all of you what we are fighting, how it works, who the players are and how the system is rigged against everyone.

The majority of America has absolutely no clue how bad it is.

It's just the truth. It isn't a dig or a put down in any regard.

What I saw yesterday was something we all know has been on the back burner in the hearts and minds of Patriots for decades. They have had enough and do not want to continue on the current trajectory.

Violence will never resolve disputes. It is impossible.
That is why the Country was thought through so thoroughly 244 years ago. An attempt to end violence to solve disputes among the ideologies of free thinkers.

A robust debate must remain or we are finished. Period.

What you are seeing now is the result of 100 years of Americans being complacent, busy, self absorbed, selfish and just plain ignorant..

Choosing intentionally to not know.

Monkey see monkey do..
Hear no evil, see no evil...

Those times are gone now. Those days will not return. New days are ahead of us. We cannot fix a system that literally is designed to keep you stupid, ashamed, worthless, consumptive and obedient. It will not work...

Round peg in a square hole.

Yesterday at the Capitol I saw the truth of America. We are not subjects to Kings. We were taught to be self reliant self sufficient and selfless by our families. Not the system. To reconcile all of this is mind numbing, it really is. It isn't easy and it is necessary.

How many times has Q posted this? Read it twice please. Again. Think of what your Fore Fathers meant by it. Literally not figuratively. Read slowly.

This is not a joke and it is not a game. The men who wrote those words were not weak and their intent was to give YOU POWER!!

Power over your family, power over your finances, power over your relationship with God, power over your safety. Everything laid to bare in the hands of you. Powerful contrasts to tyranny right here. That is the reason so much was put into it then. Months and months they debated, they fought it out with WORDS among each other and lead & powder for the enemy... A clear line was determined. We will be civil with each other but God help any enemy we face because he will be brutally defeated. Without mercy. -But only if he attacks us. On our soil.

That last line is crucial. It means everything. We will not invade foreign land for riches, spoils, territory. We will in fact make specific demands pertaining to this exactly. Your Country has been usurped co opted infiltrated and a massive attempt has been put forth to make sure you can't do anything about it..It is rigged. This is where we encounter our current issue. The Patriots who went to the Capitol yesterday did not go there to destroy anything. But a good number of them actually broke shit. Not good. But, a rubicon in our experiment has been crossed. America has some hard choices to make and hard truths to look square in the face. Everything is a lie. No truth remains in the current conversation. Every perspective presented has a deceitful foundation rooted in deception and the long striving nature of evil.. Power!!

I would like to salute every Patriot who came to DC this week. Your trip was not in vein. To all the Q readers out there. Your journey is not in vein. It is a moment where the People want their power back. Not to rule a kingdom but to live their life. They are ALL willing to fight and die tomorrow just so the idea of America can live on for their families and future generations. What you saw yesterday was not as much violence as it was pure clear specific understanding of the corrupt nature of the foul beings that now lay Dominion over them.

Americans are not to be dominated. Say what you will. But firearms were not invented for hunting. They were invented for safety. So the weak could defend themselves against the strong. It really is that simple. Now lay that over our current situation... See what I mean here?

I love everyone of you. I love President Donald Trump. I will continue to fight for him. No matter what their goons on tv say about me supporting him, to my family. Q as well. This isn't over. Not today. We did not lose America yesterday. We started to actually see it again.
