it seems to me that not many know that navalny is an avowed nationalist & racist and not just a blonde guy who likes to gently kiss his blonde wife before going to jail and watches “rick & morty”. so here’s a little thread and some of it is pretty personal.

here is navalny’s 2007 video. “a tooth without a root is called “dead”. a nationalist is someone who doesn’t want the russian root to be removed from the word “russia”. we have the right to be russian in russia, and we will defend it.”

i downloaded it to make sure it won’t disappear but it is still shared by navalny’s official youtube channel. btw, in this video, navalny is introduced in the caption as a “certified nationalist”.

<https://t.co/OK2Kq5nkkV>

here is another video navalny is not keen to share anymore, in which he compares muslims to cockroaches and flies and recommends shooting them with guns if swatters and shoes fail

<https://t.co/xf0yDtA4s5>

here is a 2011 interview with navalny where he explains why he goes to the so-called “russian march”, a yearly nationalist gathering, and why he thinks it’s ok to collaborate with nazis

<https://t.co/Y3PYscWIZM>

you can read about the “russian marches”, what they convey and who participates here <https://t.co/truFf8oivF> russian marches are an especially hot topic today because it’s the 11th anniversary of the murder of antifascists stanislav markelov & anastasia baburova at the hands of neo-nazis in russia (i have not found any mentions of that murder by navalny)

the man who masterminded markelov/baburova murder (and other ones) ilya goryachev, marched in the russian marches the very same years when navalny did. here’s some stuff about him

<https://t.co/LiUpFlp57B>

here is a link to navalny's website with a bunch of materials about migration. "if europe has an "orgy of tolerance" towards islamists, in russia it's the sodom & gomorrah of lies, hypocrisy, corruption & direct encouragement of aggressive islamism" <https://t.co/ExnwmBIRUS> and now for some personal stuff. when navalny was running for mayor of moscow in 2013 i visited his campaign office and right then and there they were teaching their volunteers to deflect on questions about his nationalism i'm a mutt (russian/greek/jewish/ukrainian) as many reading this know, and this was so cravenly and gross that i burst out crying then and there. honestly, anyone who isn't a monster would be angered. i should have done smth else but i was flabberghasted and unprepared for it i feel like a conscious effort has been done in the following years to whitewash navalny's reputation, especially as he realized that socialism is trendy & decided to go after a younger audience who have progressive views on ethnicity, but it was superficial navalny's campaign "stop feeding the caucasus" is aimed at making sure chechnya & other north caucasus are "not a burden" to russia. meanwhile, navalny himself wants to live in europe ■ apparently, navalny learned the tenets of his anti-muslim rhetoric at yale, where he attended a course, during debates against mosques, and he recreated them in moscow upon his return growing up in moscow in the 00s i have seen a lot of disgusting things done by nationalists. they beat up so many of my friends. they brutally killed people. they recruited young idiots. these were the worst years because putin's government fully supported them.

— Alexey Navalny (@navalny) August 30, 2011

later, putin's govt began to crack down on various groups & using nationalist ideas for lofty ideals & imperial ideology, where street combat was not advantageous. but every once in a while horrible crimes still happened, still happen.

political repressions are bad. but most of support for navalny is just a fandom that does not center the real issues like freedom of assembly in russia, the need for a more prominent opposition but most importantly shifts the focus from what the political situation really is moreover, engaging in the navalny narrative hyped by intelligence/tech/liberal circles does absolutely nothing for russian working class but everything for sanctions against russia & a new nationalist, racist but pro-western neo-liberal order instead of the old, anti-western one the only way to fight against nationalism in russia is to be a communist & against all sorts of liberalism (i'll never tire of saying that liberalism invites nationalism). but even communism is marred w nationalism there so one has to know the context to be able to stay on course politics is not just responding to the hype. please start using your own head, researching vigorously, and placing any event in context of other events. using navalny's case to prop him up as a folk hero is very dangerous: don't lose the plot and if you really really need to support a political prisoner, why not pay attention to julian assange? no western politicians speak for him, and yet the man who exposed numerous imperialist war crimes is now in a covid-infested jail, facing a death penalty. #FreeAssangeNOW

@MarkSleboda1 showed a very important link to add:
"I ask him if he regrets those videos now, he's unapologetic. He sees it as a strength that he can speak to both liberals and nationalists." 1/2

<https://t.co/Oc5luV2mP1>

my fave thing with this thread is that nationalists keep reposting it and saying "this is the navalny we have lost ■"
