

Twitter Thread by Voice of Kshatriyas

Voice of Kshatriyas

@KshatriyaVoice

#Thread

Gujars have claimed every living species in this galaxy to be their own, be it Attila Hun or Mihirkula, Parmars, Pratihars, Chauhans, Pulkeshin Chalukya, Shivaji Bhonsle, Bhatias and what not.

It's high time that the verity of their claims needs to be checked.

When Thomas Twining traveled in 1794 in Doab he found 3 tribes of robbers- Pindaris, Mewatis, and Gujjars. "Goujer on contrary implies nothing but craftiness and unsparing barbarity and communicates nothing but terror and dismay

Hari Ram Gupta an eminent historian describes Gujjars as 'a tribe of thieves'.

When Babur first came to India he saw Gujjars coming from the mountains and stealing away the cattle and buffaloes. They looted Indians and foreigners alike.

Historian HR Gupta while talking about Gujjars says:

"they oppressed poor grass cutters and extorted money from them, those who did not pay it were beaten by them".

Basically Gujjars who now claim every dynasty to be their own, were always a nomadic pastoral tribe and even now in JK. However, they took to stealing as their main profession. Proverb was 'dog, rangar, cat and gujjar, without these 4 everybody could sleep with doors open'.

Gujars became so famous for their notorious activities that several proverbs got popularised on their behavior in western India.

Some of them are like this: 'Yar Dom re Kina Gujjar, Chura Chura Ghar Kardiya Ujjar' meaning dome made friends with Gujar and he robbed him instead.

Historians about the Gujjars of Kangra Hills, HP:

'Gujjars of hills are known as Idle, worthless and thieving race, Buffaloes are their only wealth'.

One has to wonder that if these people ruled all over the world based on their martial capabilities what has reduced them to this?

Though the Gujar possesses a constant desire for other people's cattle, he never seems to have had the love of fighting and the character for manly independence. It's amazing that how everyone became martial in 21st century.

Shameless!

Basically, koi bhi famous ho, use baap bana lenge.

2. Joginder Singh Gujjar, SFJ Khalistani

Till last 4-5 yrs, before the advent of Historical revisionism of RSS BJP, Gujjars proudly showcased their Rajput ancestry, one such case is of Bhati Gujjars of west UP who claim to be the progenies of Rao Kasal Bhati, the rajput ruler of Jaisalmer, and look at these idiots now.

'Gurjara' denoted geographic area consisting southern Rajasthan & northern Gujarat.

[illegible]

"The country (■■■■) by the name #Gurjara (■■■■■■■■), which is the abode (■■■■■■) of wealth and auspiciousness."

Even the ruler of princely state of Baroda "Pratap Rao Gaekwad" came to be known as GurjarNaresh just because he ruled that territory, so the epithet Gurjar-Naresh was used to signify superiority over the region of Gurjara Desha. and have no relation with Gujar community.

Rajor inscription, 960 AD of Manthandev a feudatory of Imperial Pratihar is the only inscription where any Pratihar identified himself with the word "Gurjara", which as per all historians represents "BarGujar Rajput clan" signifying political superiority over Gurjara region.

Credits:

Thanks to @Lost_History1 and Chandrapida.

For further reading:

<https://t.co/il7CF6KpPU>

Further, people may also check, the following NDTV video shot by Ravish Kumar, where the Bhaat geneology discusses the origin of Baisoya gujjars from Saroya rajputs.

<https://t.co/jgPdMJL3kB>