Twitter Thread by Gautam Chikermane

Gautam Chikermane
@gchikermane

Some readers have been asking what #India2030 is all about.
Here's a chapter-by-chapter thread on the 20 forecasts by 20 thought leaders on 20 themes that will define India in the 2020s.
1/n

> Delighted to announce the forthcoming release of my fifth book \u2014 #India2030: The Rise of a Rajasic Nation.
> It hits the bookstores on 25 January.
> Gratitude to my contributors and @PenguinIndia for partnering this adventure. pic.twitter.com/I0SdQk19JG
>
> — Gautam Chikermane (@gchikermane) January 13, 2021

Chapter 20 of #India2030 by @davidfrawleyved talks about how the Civilizational Resurgence of India will reconnect its ancient past to ride into a dharmic future
2/n

Chapter 19 of #India2030 by @devdip tells us what the new idea of Nationalism in the 2020s will be — an integral union of the nation with the self
3/n

Chapter 18 of #India2030 by @sandipanthedeb examines how ideologies and technologies will intrude into and redefine Friendships
4/n

Chapter 17 of #India2030 by @authoramish studies the Soft Power of India and says its global influence will be through the confluence of materialism and spiritualism
5/n

Chapter 16 of #India2030 by @rameshmashelkar on Science and Technology shows how India will be a producer, not merely a consumer, of knowledge
6/n

Chapter 15 of #India2030 by @ajay_shah envisions the rise of science in Policymaking
7/n

Chapter 14 of #India2030 by @parthjshah makes four fantastic forecasts in the field of Education
8/n

Chapter 13 of #India2030 by Manish Sabharwal looks at what the future of Work will look like
9/n

Chapter 12 of #India2030 by @nebuer42 tells us what the future of Urbanization (hint: India will thrive in liveable cities)
10/n

Chatper 11 of #India2030 by @KiritParikh6 defines the contours of Energy and how it will fuel India's development
11/n

Chapter 10 of #India2030 by @monikahalan gives us a detailed account of what the future of Money looks like
12/n

Chapter 9 of #India2030 by @AmritaNarlikar studies how India will engage with Multilateralism — from principles to transactions and back
13/n

Chapter 8 of #India2030 by @samirsaran on Foreign Policy forecasts that India will be a 'bridge nation'
14/n

Chapter 7 of #India2030 by @Vikram_Sood on Spying tells the intelligence fraternity to rethink and reinvent itself to face emerging challenges
15/n

Chapter 6 of #India2030 by @Iyervval talks about the nine trends that will dominate the Defence sector in the 2020s
16/n

Chapter 5 of #India2030 by Justice B.N. Srikrishna forecasts that technology will deliver exponential efficiency and a greater accountability
17/n

Chapter 4 of #India2030 by @bibekdebroy on the Economy sees a fundamental shift from wealth redistribution to wealth creation
18/n

Chapter 3 of #India2030 by @rammadhavbjp on Politics defines the changing contours of India's rise to becoming a great power
19/n

Chapter 2 of #India2030 by @drrajeshmparikh on Health prepares us to look beyond a cultural extinction event
20/n

Chapter 1 of #India2030 by me (@gchikermane) shows that the rise of India this decade onwards will be driven by a rajasic force

[PS: Don’t forget to pre-order the book, here’s the link
https://t.co/uzgZiULgR1
n/n

