

Twitter Thread by Molly Jong-Fast ■

Molly Jong-Fast ■

@MollyJongFast

Can we talk about the pentagon sending security forces to guard their homes while congress was under siege?

<https://t.co/9f3y8zwZwt>

By 3:37 p.m., the Pentagon sent its own security forces to guard the homes of defense leaders. No troops had yet reached the Capitol.

By 3:44 p.m., the congressional leaders escalated their pleas.

“Tell POTUS to tweet everyone should leave,” Schumer implored the officials, using the acronym for the president of the United States. House Majority Leader Steny Hoyer, D-Md., asked about calling up active duty military.