Twitter Thread by Humanist Vanguard

Humanist Vanguard
@cognizant_today

American Law enforcement and military appears to be fully compromised at this time. At the rate things are developing, there may not be a peaceful transition of power on the 20th. Underestimating the threat we are facing will have dire consequences. #RemoveTheTraitors

Trump may already be a military dictator, we just haven't realized it yet, because we have not seen anything like this unfold on American soil, & we think things like this can't happen here, and happens only overseas. That is exact what they want us to believe. #RemoveTheTraitors

I remain unconvinced at this time about the loyalty of some of the troops already deployed at the Capitol and being national guard being mobilized at state capitols even. I remain concerns for the safety of Democratic lawmakers at DC and elected officials at all 50 states.

Meanwhile Trump supporters are playing dumb or sounding ridiculous in the narratives, I suspect intentionally because it makes it easier for the public dismiss the actual threat faced because the public believes they are incompetent and fools. #RemoveTheTraitors

I think at this time, that is what they want us to believe. It gives then a cover, & can carry on with their nefarious plans. The longer it goes without putting a stop to this, the harder it will be for the American people to stop what they are planning to do. #RemoveTheTraitors

If Trump and his allies are successfully able to over throw the constitution in a military-style coup with the help of armed militia, we must understand that this is going to have lasting ripple effects all over the world and has potential to trigger a war. #RemoveTheTraitors

What we are talking about here is the largest military arsenal in the world going rogue in unpredictable ways. The entire global over it at threat. America has military bases all over the world, and we are this makes America a clear and present danger to everyone else.

This must not be allowed to happen. This must never be allowed to happen. Cooler and calmer heads must prevail and figure out how to put a stop to this! None of this ok. The enemy is at the gates, and it's come from within. #RemoveThemAll