Twitter Thread by ZLHR

ZLHR
@ZLHRLawyers

After a long wait, proceedings against @advocatemahere finally commence in Courtroom No. 11 before Magistrate Utahwashe.

> We are also with @advocatemahere at Harare Magistrates Court where remand proceedings against her are yet to commence.
>
> — ZLHR (@ZLHRLawyers) January 12, 2021

David Drury tells Magistrate Utahwashe that the State can't make a "Lazarus" resurrection to a law which is non-existent.

Prosecutor Muchemwa tells Magistrate Utahwashe that the State is sticking to allegations contained in the charge sheet and applies for @advocatemahere to be placed on remand.

@advocatemahere's lawyers challenge State bid to place her on remand.

Drury says he is interested in knowing the identity of the woman who was allegedly roughed up by @PoliceZimbabwe.

Drury tells Magistrate Utahwashe that there is nothing illegal about @advocatemahere tweets.

In strange submissions, Prosecutor Muchemwa says section 20 of the former Constitution is worded differently with section 61 of the current Constitution hence section 31 (a)(i) & section 31(a)(iii) is still valid.

Magistrate Utahwashe orders State to investigate complaints raised by @advocatemahere & furnish court with a report by Friday 15 January 2021.

Advocate Mahere will spend 3 days in prison custody to Friday when Magistrate Utahwashe will hand down his ruling on her application challenging state bid to place her on remand.