How to respond like a Sabi Boy/ Enlightened alpha/ Zen Alpha, when she asks...

Her: Sabi Boy, are you still seeing other girls?

Example 1

Sabi Boy: Sure. I have like 30 girlfriends, one for everyday of the month. Don't worry baby, you're number 5...omoh I'm hungry o, let's go out and get some food

Example 2

Sabi Boy: Wow. We've only seen each other like… 5 times. Too soon to discuss that b. Anywho, have you heard about the new KFC store down the road? Let's check it out

Understand that women aren't stupid

Their intuition is actually sharper than that of the average man

Unless she's a complete imbecile, she knows what all these things mean

It means

1. You have other women in your life
2. You're not sharing the details
3. It's not a big deal

Now most women will simply hear these and follow your lead when you change the topic

(granted that you haven't been acting like a pussy or engaging in boyfriend behaviors too soon)

but some particularly Needy women will pester you for tangible answers...

Here's what to do

1. Give another sarcastic answer and change the topic

2. If she still pesters, firmly state that you don't want to discuss it as it is too early to do so (which it is)

3. If she gets upset or pesters further... Time to soft next my brother

All of these are best used in the beginning when she's still a friends with benefits or a lite relationship and you're not moving too fast

You can't engage in these forever however and one day you'll have to tell her the truth

The beauty is that by then, it won't surprise her

And that's what you want...

Later on that
