Twitter Thread by Alisha Laws

Alisha Laws
@AlishaLaws6

https://t.co/BWHcdFiSPi

His mother was [Miriam], (the woman who) let (her) women's [hair] grow long (megadla [s■‘ar] nešayya).

Some authors associated her with “Miriam Megaddlela” or Miriam with the braided locks, named in the 2nd century Talmud.[1]