I expect to lose some friends over this. I also expect to gain some new ones. Neither is my motivation for posting it. If you think I'm trying to curry favor with any particular person or group, you know nothing about me. This is my country and I'm fighting for its soul. 1/10

I can't even wait until Jan. 6 because it's time for you to stop believing lies. Remember when you learned the truth about Santa Claus? For some of you, this may feel like that again. I'll help you through it, if that's what you need. 2/10

Donald Trump is not a billionaire. He's not honest in any way, shape, or form. He's not a patriot (this was written BEFORE his audio recording was released on Sunday). He doesn't care about anyone, except those who protect him from the consequences of his vile corruption. 3/10

He's not intelligent and he's not America First. He's Trump First. He's a fraud, a huckster, and an evil man who bears not even one of the fruits of the spirit, yet uses Christianity and Christians for personal gain. He's Paula White in Bull Connor's baggy business suits. 4/10

You know how I know he's not interested in election integrity? Because he didn't care about it in 2016 when it was proven that Russians interfered with our election and he didn't do anything to prevent it from happening again. In fact, he encouraged continued Russian hacking.5/10

Yet, in his defense, I've heard people say the dumbest things in the past two months. When I say "dumb," I'm not discussing classic intelligence. They may have a 150 IQ, but if they consistently say, believe, and accept dumb things, that's dumb. 6/10
