Twitter Thread by Mark Minervini

Mark Minervini
@markminervini

When to step on the gas like a pig and when to do nothing like a chicken is really what separates the greats from everyone else. You have to know your strengths, exploit them and respect your weaknesses while minimizing them.