Twitter Thread by Mark Minervini

Mark Minervini
@markminervini

The most important factor for becoming a great stock trader in not learning how a great trader trades... but how that person thinks. Because where the mind goes, everything else follows. My deepest study of great performers has been rooted in the study of mindset.