Twitter Thread by Leslie Rubin

Leslie Rubin
@LeslieRubinWCHS

HAPPENING NOW: I'm on the call now where Derrek Evans is having an initial appearance before Magistrate Eifert. They are reading the allegations out loud.

*Derrick

They are laying out, second by second, what was seen on the since deleted video posted to Evans' Facebook live-stream.

Also talking about other posts on Evans' FB page leading up to the Jan. 6 protest in D.C.

Now they are reading Evans' "official statement" where he said he was an independent member of the media.

Evans says "yes, your honor" when asked if he understands the charges against him.

U.S. has 30 days to indict him.

BREAKING: U.S. "does not request detention" for Derrick Evans.

Evans will not be detained.

Judge will release Evans on a PR bond. He doesn't have to put money down. There will be bond conditions, according to the Magistrate.

No requests for travel restrictions from U.S.