Twitter Thread by Taiwo_Ajakaye

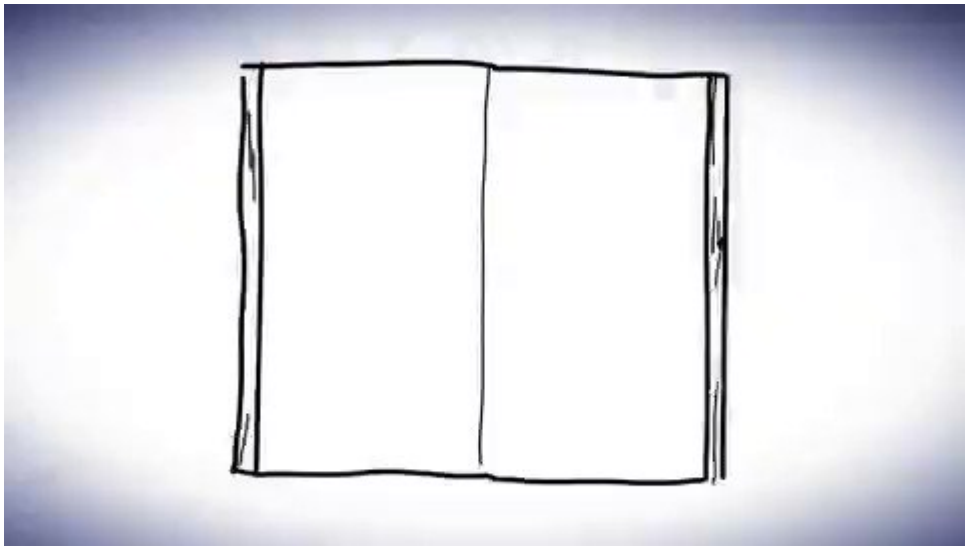

Taiwo_Ajakaye
@dmightyangel

SORO SOKE IDEOLOGICAL SOMERSAULT:

Fellow Nigerians & Citizens of the World, there's a crisis that must be attended to IF we don't want our generation to go off the radar completely.
I've seen a clear Ideological somersault with our Soro Soke mindset. Abuse me later but READ■

In a way, I'm now very happy that #EndSARS crisis happened. Avoidable crisis IF Govt had been responsive & responsible enough to listen to the pulse of Nigerians irrespective of political affiliation before this event. Avoidable crisis IF Soro Soke folks had known when to stop!

Happy because the #EndSARS crisis had made some things clearer. It has separated boys from men in a way. It has exposed pseudo-intelligence & exposed the costly assumption that Social Media folks had.
So let me narrow down this ideological somersault to what we can learn from:

1. You have no advantage over those who are PARTISAN if you keep claiming being non-partisan.

You will keep running away from your shadow by thinking you as a human being is actually non-partisan or assuming you have no political sentiment.
In reality, there's nothing like that!

Here's is how to know where your political sentiment falls yakata into. Once you see your ability to suppress the error of a particular political party & amplify their success, that's where your sentiment lies.
ANYONE that's quick enough to AMPLIFY the error, you know the answer!

Once you settle this basic ideology with yourself, your confusion will reduce.
Stop acting against nature, there is nothing wrong with you being partisan & you are not at any advantage by claiming "ayam for Nigeria only". You will always join Shalaye FC by trying to cover up...

2. It's an Ideological somersault to keep saying PDP & APC are the same, when you are not voting for Youth party or "3rd force". You are confused o.
Ideally in any Nation, you will ALWAYS have just 2 parties at the National level. This is how to have sense in political talk.

Know what will work, imagining out of the blues that #EndSARS or any other protest will change established unwritten political code will keep you guys enjoying MIRAGE.
Only 2 parties can survive at the National Level per time.
Take this rule is the same everywhere in the world.

3. It's an Ideological Somersault to pontificate that "Rome was not built in a day" yet we want Police reform done before leaving the street in 2wks.
Just like Sesan & others have been lamenting since APC won on Saturday, it meant #EndSARS was political!
https://t.co/AL32SywehA

> Those mocking Nigeria's soro s'oke generation by arguing that the effect of #EndSARS protests were not felt in today's elections fail to understand that the potential political trigger is the next INEC voter registration drive. Social change takes time. Rome wasn't built in a day
>
> — 'Gb\xe9nga \u1e62\u1eb9\u0300san (@gbengasesan) December 5, 2020

The ideological somersault of this tweet by @gbengasesan was to agree that "Social change takes time" at the same time insisting during EndSARS that Govt that responded to #5For5 immediately shouldn't be given time although with close monitoring.
Funny!
https://t.co/AL32SywehA

> Those mocking Nigeria's soro s'oke generation by arguing that the effect of #EndSARS protests were not felt in today's elections fail to understand that the potential political trigger is the next INEC voter registration drive. Social change takes time. Rome wasn't built in a day
>
> — 'Gb\xe9nga \u1e62\u1eb9\u0300san (@gbengasesan) December 5, 2020

You guys are mistaking by linking #EndSARS protest to #LagosByeElection & feeling bad that @OfficialAPCNg won. By doing that, you obviously showed that you're partisan & worked to see @OfficialPDPNig enthroned.
You guys are overrating yourselves too much.
https://t.co/AL32SywehA

> Those mocking Nigeria's soro s'oke generation by arguing that the effect of #EndSARS protests were not felt in today's elections fail to understand that the potential political trigger is the next INEC voter registration drive. Social change takes time. Rome wasn't built in a day
>
> — 'Gb\xe9nga \u1e62\u1eb9\u0300san (@gbengasesan) December 5, 2020

I was in Magodo during the #LagosByeElection & was surprised that only @TokunboAbiru campaigned across Magodo.
Soro Soke that Gbada was banking on were only on twitter cancelling APC in Lagos.
How do you agree that Social change takes time but Reform must be Instant noodle?

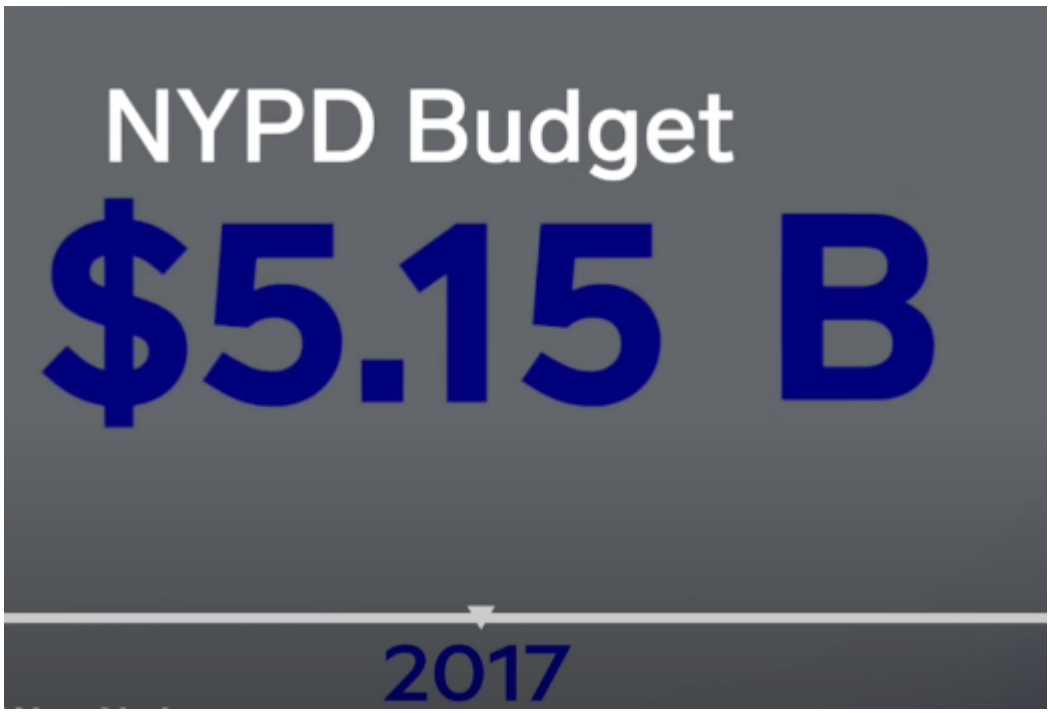

How do you CONCLUDE that Police Reform that affects ALL must be narrowed down as a political tool to use against just one political party you love to hate?
You have simply brought an end to the legitimacy of such protest by claiming that it was meant to end APC..Na you talk am o.

Have you watched Mummy Oby talk about #FixNigeria on paper? Very simple.
Ask her why JAMB didn't remit a dime under her as Education minister despite making billions from sales of form, she'll be MUTE.
Ask her if Obasanjo is corrupt, you will here new vocabularies...Soro Soke■

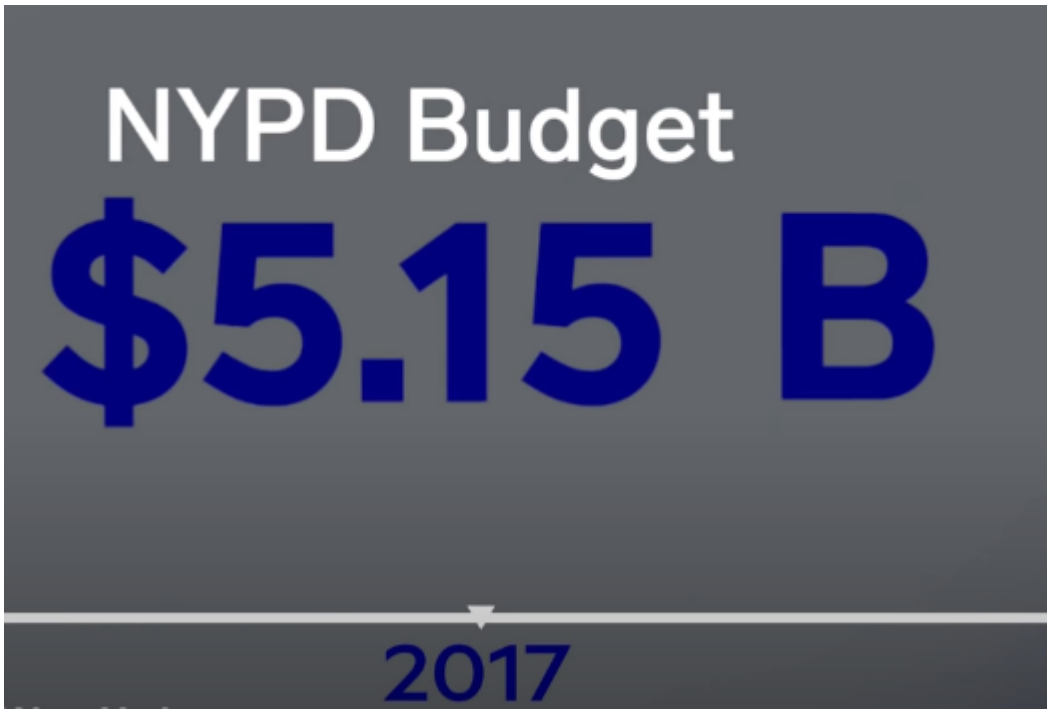

Apart from insults, you guys are not driving intellectual conversation here. You keep calling us "BMC" yet your brains aren't picking reality of Police Reform. How much is needed for the reform & how do you get it done? Will that be instant noodle package?

Reform or politics?

200M population, over 967,000kmsq
@PoliceNG budget is far less than $1bn for 2021. NYPD alone (One City in USA) 2021 budget is $5.62B.
The entire Police barracks must be brought down, Uniform, salary etc.. We keep showing reality but You want Soro Soke instant noodle reform.

I saw another ideological somersault that says "when it comes to elections, between two bad choices, not voting any is a credible choice".
The same minds that processed APC & PDP as 2 bad choices wouldn't stop having business transactions in millions with one or both bad choices.

How can a sane mind imagine @TokunboAbiru a candidate of @OfficialAPCNg as a bad choice just because of Gbadamosi of @OfficialPDPNig in an election that hope to demonize both parties? Can you unloose the shoe latchet of Abiru profiles in real life or that of Prof Mrs Daduut?■■

This arrogance that made someone during EndSARS to be forming "all knowledge" in IT against the Govt by asking you to get VPN so as not to be tracked. If you are close to 1/10 of Minister of Comms & Digital Economy profile/experience, we may have to run■

https://t.co/ylUfeXeoIp

> As a precaution, protesters should please use a virtual private network (VPN) on their mobile phones (and other devices). VPNs help you cover your tracks, ensure privacy and keep you anonymous. If you're joining any #EndSARS protest, buzz me for a free VPN app. DM is open.
>
> — 'Gb\xe9nga \u1e62\u1eb9\u0300san (@gbengasesan) October 10, 2020

This funny ideological somersault of thinking "We know it all, they know nothing in Govt" clearly shows we are not in tune with what the problem is in Nigeria.
Police reform (any reform) is not the same as Political grandstanding.
The issue is not lack of people but COURAGE.

Soro Soke folks display ideological somersault by shouting Freedom of speech while gagging others with different views.
If you have known ANYONE you love to call "BMC" online or in real life, you would have known you are wasting your time, you can't bully them intellectually.

Good enough, some have exercised their right of choice by falling off from the so called "Buharists". They are now in your Soro Soke geng. Ask them, they will tell you the "Buharists BMC" you're fighting to suppress towards 2023 will always be ahead of you in LOCAL POLITICS.

It's an ideological somersault for you in your online covens thinking "youths" are now against APC & the next voter registration will be flooded by Soro Soke ONLY while APC will not mobilize more voters.
Have I told you that Soro Sokes are PDP coded folks? VOTES NO BE RETWEETS■

EiE Nigeria
@EiENigeria

For those expecting magic with elections post-#EndSARS ✊:
1) By October, no new candidate could join the races
2) Underdogs without a campaign/message won't suddenly have one
3) @inecnigeria closed voter registration in Aug 2018 - over TWO years ago!
Marathon NOT sprint.
#RSVP

7:28 PM · Dec 5, 2020 · TweetDeck