The quality of covering letters has come such a long way. Awesome to see the ambition and aspiration.

I have to admit that I am no financial expert—just a college student who is fascinated by the markets, and prospect of making a portfolio; but with the appropriate guidance and support, you and your colleagues at Edelweiss can turn my passion into a real skill. Skills can be taught, but not the willingness to learn and work. I assure you that I will be the person who works the hardest and asks questions about almost everything, only to become better everyday.

You often mention how you got the CEO job by asking for it first. Today, I am asking for you to take a chance on me; it will turn out to be one of your best investments. Who knows, I might just turn out to be your potential successor?

I am attaching my CV for your reference. Looking forward to hearing back from you.
