Twitter Thread by Malcolm Tucker

Malcolm Tucker
@gorbalsgoebbels

It seems to me people are deliberately ignoring the differences between elections and referendums.

Referendums are single issue votes that have seismic impacts. Massive change is enacted if change wins.

That is why they cannot be every few years.

Uncertainty kills economy.