@vabelle2010

I'm just going to post this response to someone saying they don't think I can see through the forest.
I lived in the fucking forest. I was and continue to live in the weeds.... I feel it is so important to put forth as much truth as I legally can:

You still fail to provide your reasons for voting FOR Biden, not for NOT Voting for Trump. I'm extremely capable of seeing through the forest as I worked in it for 16 years. Sorry you don't know what I know right now. But you soon will.

If not revealed by Durham, some will actually come out in my case as we move forward finally after 8+ years.

Those characters in the FBI who did extremely illegal and unethical activities were my peers, unfortunately.

So, unfortunately, I have had the "honor" of knowing a bit more than I really think I was ready to know. I have actually had to take breaks from the information that will rock the core of this nation. Totally way bigger than Watergate. It actually hurts to say that.

I don't know if the Bu can survive but I pray that it does. I am more than willing to assist in any way. But this may shake Americans, who are & are in not believing the magnitude of the situation, so much that I'm not sure the American people will be supportive of just reform.

I believe it can be done but that is of little value in the larger picture. I'm voting for Trump because I believe we need someone who has not spent their last 47 or even their last ten years in government.

I know he may seem abrasive and he's not exactly what y'all are used to as "presidential" enough. But I feel we need this greatly. I witnessed a lot of what goes on in the swamp. I Thank God @realDonaldTrump came down that escalator years ago.

I know a lot of the players and how they have hurt/helped the American people over the past 20+ years. I have worked with the obstructive and quite frankly, corrupt Obama/Biden administration.

I personally know lives lost because of their the hurtful agendas of the past few administrations. Had @realDonaldTrump been @POTUS when I worked my ass off on the Robert @HelpBobLevinson case, not only would he be alive, he'd be home.

I worked Benghazi as it was going on. I exposed critical mistakes/probable agenda related decisions made during critical hours & for quite a bit after.

I watched but refused to remain silent, along with other career FBI Counterterrorism professionals, when the video excuse was used as a cover up.

I have dealt with child trafficking victims of #Epstein & other notable people, when they were ignored. I still work with one of the original SSAs of the Epstein case in Miami, who he himself continues to be threatened if he says too much about the cover up of Epstein's crimes.

I have watched in horror on 9/11 as buildings fell to the ground in front of me and how the Obama administration weakened our defenses both military and counterterrorism efforts.

I have watched the infiltration of our very own federal agencies, specifically White House staff, who have significant ties to Hezbollah and other terrorist and foreign governments.

I can't be more clear about the danger that awaits us should @JoeBiden & his team of corrupt criminals, who themselves have done such significant damage to our national security in the time they have held public office, should be elected.

I have also watched as significant progress in the fight on terror was abandoned by 8 years of not only cowering to state sponsors of terrorism but also how those criminals profited from their activities in the deals they made yet have been allowed to cover up for too long.

I have been threatened personally & rushed out of my home to avoid harm those people wanted to bring my way, even if they may have almost succeeded on one occasion.

You are extremely incorrect that I am unable to see through the forest as I have been in the weeds and have the acute experience of what these people will do to continue their agenda.

I have shared this with the team briefing Durham and have been told that DOJ OIG confirmed what I have supplied to them.

This is much more sinister than any of us can even imagine. I don't go with conspiracy theories, I go by fact and personal confirmation of those facts. Lots you probably don't even listen to is conspiracy but lots is so awfully true, it will again, shake this country to its core.

However, that will all be covered up if Biden wins the election. And America will go back to sleep and be lied to and manipulated. I wish I could share more but I don't know if you or anyone who supports Never Trump; not necessarily Biden, would even listen.

It’s sad that you are questioning my love of this country over politics. I’m not going to go back & forth on @GOP vs @DNC as I wish we had a third party that was not so ingrained in the corruption of DC.

Trump probably ran under the @GOP because the @DNC had already determined Hilldabeast was that nominee.

What a huge disservice has been done to American citizens. I’m hopeful that we see a landslide win of the election which allows for just a little more time to get this information out and those held accountable who should be.

Btw, I lived in Scranton for 2 1/2 years and they aren’t all too fond of good ole Joe. He destroyed their jobs and continues to use them as his “from the heartland” prop.

Look at the legislation he has sponsored, proposed and supported, as well as his running mate Harris. Look at their actions and sometimes lack there of.

While you may be voting for Biden because you don’t like Trump etc., I hope you do your own independent research of their own numerous and sometimes conflicting agendas over their time in local, state and federal government.

Trump is not the racist y’all keep pushing. Biden has and continues to be. Just look at his many statements throughout the years, as well as his friends. Just let yourself say what if Robyn is actually correct.

I would NOT be voting for Trump if I felt he was a criminal or a danger to this country.
I would have already been pushing and supporting another candidate.
