Twitter Thread by Adam Klasfeld

Adam Klasfeld
@KlasfeldReports

Georgia GOP and Trump campaign's suit in Chatham County is in court this morning.

GOP witness conceded that he did not know whether a stack of 53 challenged ballots were received on time.

The board's witness testified they were.

Background:

You can follow along with the hearing here. https://t.co/egUQUO94hT

Trump's Michigan suit also heads to a speedy hearing today at 11:30 p.m. Eastern Time, per a new order.

We'll be on top of them both at @LawCrimeNews.

DONALD J. TRUMP, and ERIC OSTERGREN,

Plaintiffs,

v Case No. 20-000225-MZ

JOCELYN BENSON, in her official capacity as SECRETARY OF STATE, Hon. Cynthia Diane Stephens Defendant.

_____/

ORDER

Currently pending before this Court is Plaintiff's 11/04/2020 Emergency Motion for Declaratory Judgment;

That Complaint was NOT accompanied by a Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order either with or without notice, a Motion for Preliminary Injunction, or any affidavit.

The Democratic National Committee filed a Motion to Intervene after business hours on Wednesday, November 04, 2020. The Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Emergency Injunctive Relief on Thursday, November 05, 2020 along with opposition to the request to intervene. They also filed an affidavit from Ms. Connarn. No proof of service has been filed.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that because of the grave importance of the issues in this matter and despite the failure of the plaintiff to file proofs of service, that the proposed intervenors may file an amicus brief on or before noon while this court reviews the Motion to Intervene.

The Court further orders that the parties and the proposed intervenors appear today Thursday, November 05, 2020 at 11:30 a.m. via zoom for a hearing on all matters.

Meanwhile in the Georgia case:

Sabrina German, the director of Chatham County's Voter Registration Office, backs up the prior witness's testimony that those 53 ballots were received on time.

None of them were double votes, she said.

Jeff Harris, from the Democratic Party of Georgia, notes both of the GOP witnesses conceded they had no idea about when those 53 ballots were received.

"They have been flatly incapable of proffering competent evidence to prove that point."

Harris, again.

"Courts don't resolve disputes about whether something may or may not be happening."

Judge James Bass unceremoniously DENIES the Georgia GOP and Trump campaign's request and dismisses the petition in Chatham County, in a sentence before the hearing abruptly adjourns.

Two GOP witnesses concede no knowledge of improper counting.

Two board of elections witnesses testify ballots received on time.

It wasn't a close call for the judge, who quickly dispatched the petition. https://t.co/eiKdubRsOm