Twitter Thread by Lauren Jauregui

Lauren Jauregui
@LaurenJauregui

Rampage? They literally committed sedition & insurrection..it's amazing to me the mass media's strategic use of rhetoric to demonize the left & justify the right. This government & those who truly possesses the power in this country know exactly

> The front page of The New York Times for Jan. 7, 2021 (late edition). pic.twitter.com/enmoNs55vm
>
> — The New York Times (@nytimes) January 7, 2021

what they do when they call us rioters and looters (unarmed protestors asking for police brutality to be held accountable) and them mobs and protestors (heavily armed and refusing to accept the election results of a "democratic" process) We need to stop asking why they do this

And understand that it's a tool. Propaganda and misinformation and rhetoric. They program us to be outraged and stay exhausted and fighting the seemingly arbitrary and "insignificant" uses of words. The media is the picture painter, the visuals released with a single if you will

They are all owned by the same people and then they slightly sqew the POV of their proposed audiences. So something like Fox knows that their main audience (viewer count=profit) is alt-right "conservatives" and CNN knows that it's main audience is more liberal. All of these news

Sources will give out the same exact messaging with different angles so as to keep their viewers watching as long as possible. THEY MAKE MONEY OFF OF SENSATIONALIZING, CENSORING, SKEWING the truth and making it more entertaining. If y'all look at Ancient Rome and their tactics for world domination (which is essentially thought domination) all of the pillars are present. What's amazing to me is how we all flail about asking why these things happen when they are STRATEGIC. Why didn't the police stop this? Where were the tanks and national guard?

They KNEW about all of this. These people have been planning this for months. Anyone paying any attention to the way these people move and think understand that this is not a game to them and that the police force (who have actively been involved in white supremacist groups and quite literally murder black, brown, indigenous and queer folks on camera with no consequence due to a Supreme Court upheld “qualified immunity”) aren’t doing anything because they believe in what these self proclaimed patriots are “fighting for”. We have to understand

America’s RACIST, CLASSIST ETHOS. We have to understand the fact that these cycles have been going on since America’s inception. At the Boston tea party, WHITE PEOPLE dressed up as NATIVES so that the blame would fall upon their shoulders, the same way they say ANTIFA

(ANTI FASCISTS) were the ones who actually do everything on both sides of the line and were the ones who executed yesterday’s events. What is the point of national security if those who are destroying democracy are in the White House, in the police forces, in the neighborhoods

Of our own country? What is the point of all this fear? Why do we have a 934 billion dollar defense budget if these clowns can raid Capitol Hill with no resistance? The answer to these questions lies in the inaction of the state and these politicians still trying to gloss

Over the truth of the soul of this nation and pretend like we can return to or uphold some SHAM democracy. There is nothing democratic about the United States, as proven by the way these government officials have been acting during this pandemic. They don’t care about the people

This is an oligarchy run by corporations for corporations. For the rich by the rich. You can’t even be anywhere near government if you don’t raise millions during a campaign trail. And they (BOTH THE GOP AND DNC) undermine any sort of progressive mentality from having true power

Even though we all know that the majority of Americans are BEGGING for a modicum of the money they take from OUR PAY CHECKS to help us out of the circumstances that cause people to commit petty or violent crimes to begin with. I’m gonna go live on Instagram in a bit to

Break this down but I’m mf tired of watching us all scramble and scream “WHY” “HOW” “THIS IS SO SURPRISING” no it’s not. It’s going exactly according to their script. Protect your energy, keep your vibration as high as you can and truly get whatever plan together you need to feel

Safe because this is just beginning. It had nothing to do with just one president or just one administration or just individual isolated events of state violence. There is physical, emotional, psychological, spiritual violence going on everyday in this country..in this world

And there has been since it’s INCEPTION! This country is built on genocide and slavery. We’ve just reached the tipping point of the absolute mental illness that is White Supremacy Delusion. We have to break out of this cycle mentally by understanding why we’re here, not wondering