Your fellowship with God doesn't get broken Because you did something wrong

It's your heart/conscience condemning you but the Bible says God is greater than your conscience

That Fellowship is intact. Let's not be using our earthly father to describe God

I often hear that when you sin, you break your Fellowship with God and to recover or restore back that fellowship you have to Confess your sins to God and all that

And there are people that have been running with this mindset but it's not consistent with the Christian realities

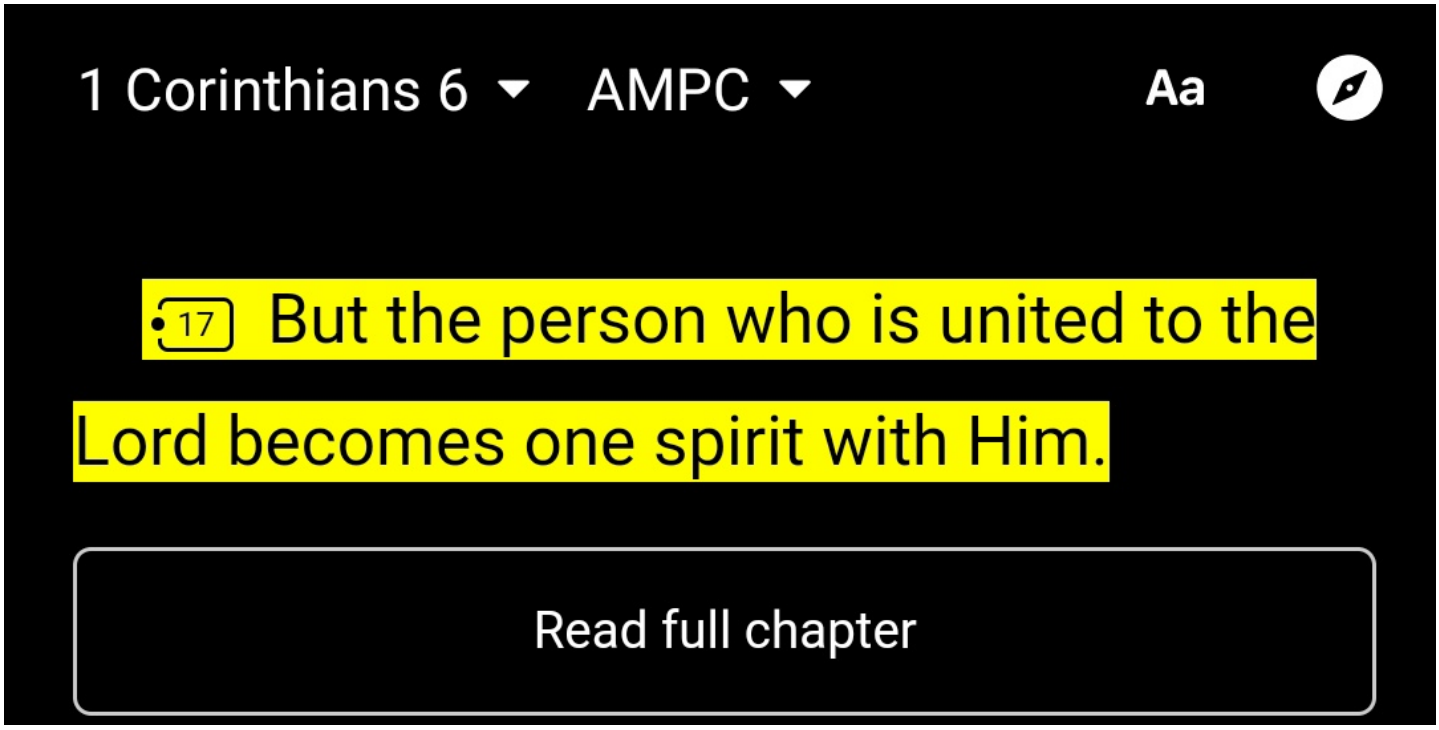

This misconception or idea that a Christian breaks fellowship comes from the old testament/Convenant thinking

That is in Deuteronomy 28, Where if you obeyed God He will get close to you

And when you don't He stays far from you

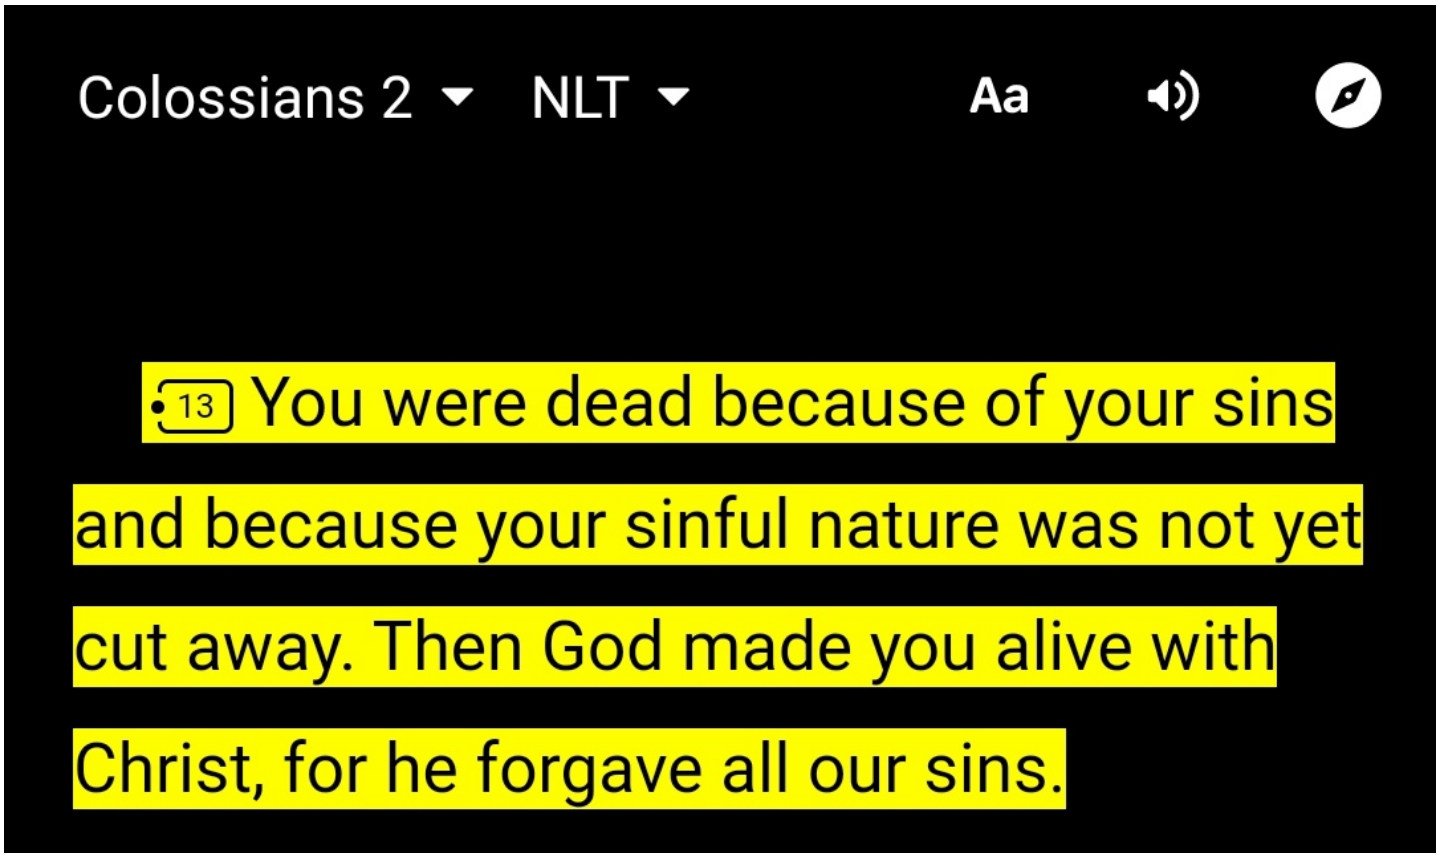

You can not be a Christian and living according to the old testament

In the new testament the Bible says we are united to God. You can’t get any closer to God than that and sin doesn’t break that union.

So they say you have to confess your sins so that you'd be forgiven and as a result of that the Fellowship is restored

See as a Christian all your sins are forgiven whether you confess them or not... Infact confessing does nothing when it comes to forgiveness

See as Christians we don't live under the law where blessings and curses are laid out

In this new testament the Bible says God has blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places

One of these Blessings, is the blessing of Fellowship with the Father

The Word Fellowship is the same Word with intimacy.

John said "... our Fellowship is with the Father and His son Jesus Christ"

Our Fellowship with God is based on the Finished work of Christ on the cross and not our behaviour

So know this that when a Christian sin there is no barrier that comes between you and God

Every barrier between the Christian and God was removed and taken away by the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ

Because of Jesus Christ now, we can approach the Father without barrier

I'm just letting you know the truth that the sin you committed last night or last week didn't break your Fellowship with God

I'm not encouraging you to keep sinning

I'm removing the fear in your heart that you've had that your Fellowship with God is broken Because of one sin

When the Bible says come boldly to the throne of Grace and collect mercy

Always be bold to approach God. God is not a man

No matter the wrongs you've done, He wants to talk to you and help you

This is the overflowing love of God.
