Twitter Thread by Denay Mings Howard

Denay Mings Howard
@denay68

I would like to share my story of how I found faith in God and how I came to realize Jesus is real ■ and it only took 51years for me to know beyond a shadow of doubt. I hope you take the time to read my story. I must tell it somewhere because maybe it will help someone in doubt!

When I was 5yrs old, my parents divorced and my mom moved me away from my father in Indiana to mom's side down in Florida. Before that, I lived like a normal child in a good family but mom and dad were from different sides of the track. I was baptized Lutheran my family were from Germany originally. Dads came in 1700s, mostly came in early 1800s. Anyway, after divorce, moved to Florida and was exposed to white trailer trash type of people that CUSSED, talked dirty, and just bad. And she married my step dad that is an atheist so church no more, unless bus.

So, I never believed the bible because man wrote it and I couldn't understand it. I never believed evolution either. And I still don't believe we were created to be slaves to aliens or Annunaki. I know we are more specially created than even they are. The Luciferians or Reptilian

Anyway, at 18 yrs old, I was working with chemicals and there was not proper ventilation and I pasted out. That was my first visit from Jesus and someone else is always with him but I never look at that person, only Jesus. And he was saying wake up, wake up and I woke up, blew it

Off as a dream plus chemicals affecting my brain. So I continued to sin, started using drugs and partying. The second time he came to me I was about 24 yrs old and was wide awake partying with non-hallucinating drugs and I had a vision of Jesus again while I was awake but he was warning me that I was heading down the wrong path and that God, Heaven, the Bible, and his sacrifice is all real. I jumped up and shouted," Its All Real"! Everyone was looking at me like I was crazy so I sat down and never mentioned it to anyone. I also blew it off to drugs and

Being high on chemicals. So after that, my life became one tragedy after another and I finally realized Karma was in fact real so I had no doubt about that part. I started living life where I don't hurt others for my own happiness. I live by the Golden Rule. And I still sin but I don't hurt others and I treat them as I want to be treated. Then, I stopped watching TV. At first it was because I couldn't afford cable. So after about 2yrs, I bought an antenna to give me local news at least. So, I always love documentaries, science, history, and learning.

So, I always watched a lot of YouTube for documentaries I was still asleep and knew there was a higher power but I didn't know what religion I belonged to. Christianity I was under the impression was the most far fetched to me. Anyway, I only had 100% faith in Karma. I learned

That the hard way. I had seen Joe M. Documentary about Q The Plan To Save The World. I didn't give it much thought. And during the 2016 election I was very disappointed in choices. I never liked Hillary from her First Lady of Arkansas days so hell no I would never vote for a

Woman that stole the China from the Whitehouse. And I figured Trump wasn't a politician and I'd give him a chance. Then I noticed how bias the media was against Trump and when he won, the way our country behaved was sickening to me. Never does any president or first family d

Deserve that treatment. It made me love Trump even more. Then Jeffrey Epstein got arrested and I seen drone footage of his island and I was instantly hooked into discovering what the actual hell was going on there with that satanic stuff everywhere. Then on MSM, an anchorwoman