U can use the following clue.

I posts chart when some set up is formed completely and is tradable.

My prefered entry method is to go long abv previous day high,

SL preferably below (considering volatility) recent swing low

Target is Resistance levels or 5X/7X/10X

> It's great that you provide such analyses free of cost but please also be clear about what should be next course of action - not advice or recommendation but just your own view. Your views on entry, sl and possible targets. That would make an amazing post
