screener

Stock analysis and screening tool for investors in India.

I will use the free screener version so that everyone can follow along.

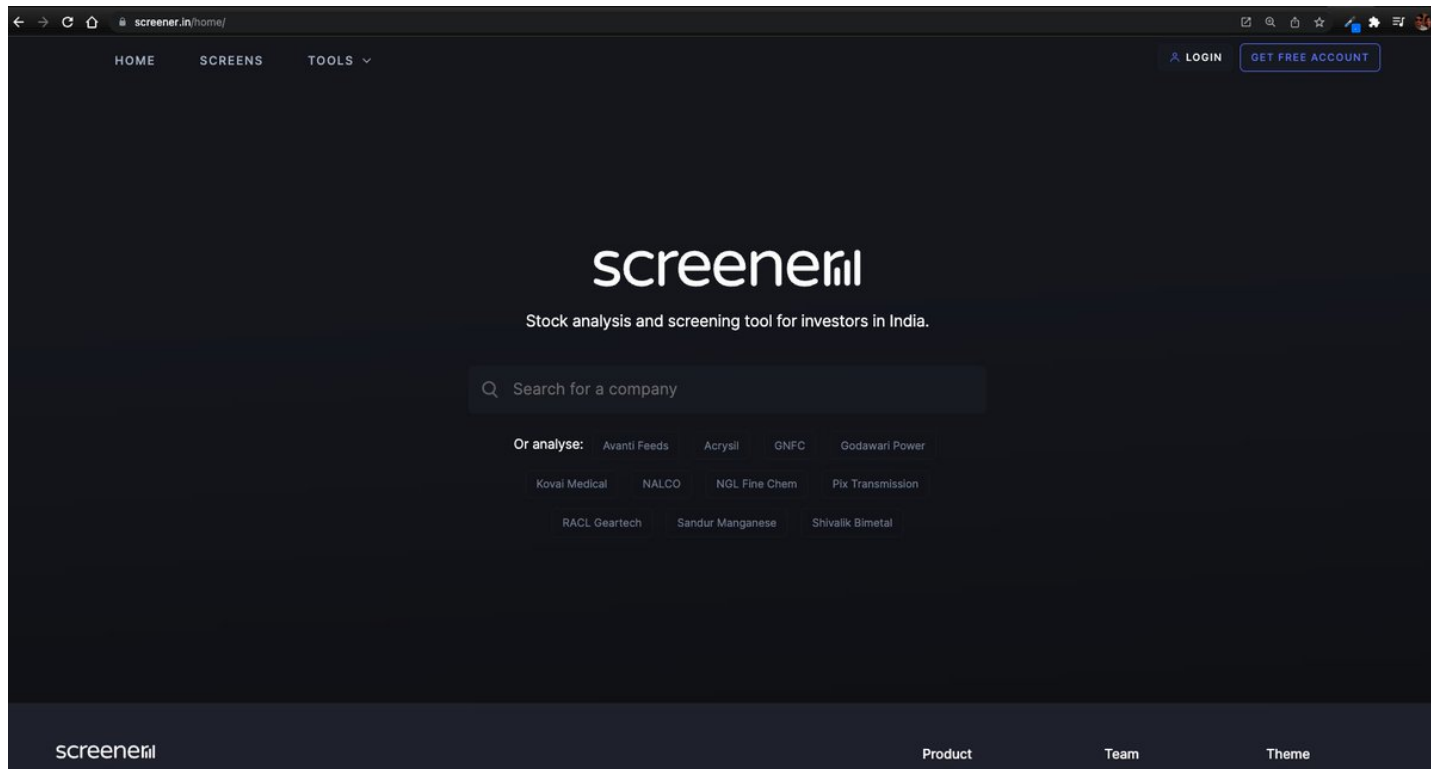

Outline

1. Stepwise Guide
2. Practical Example: CoffeeCan Companies
3. Practical Example: Smallcap Consistent compounders
4. Practical Example: Smallcap turnaround
5. Key Takeaway

1. Stepwise Guide

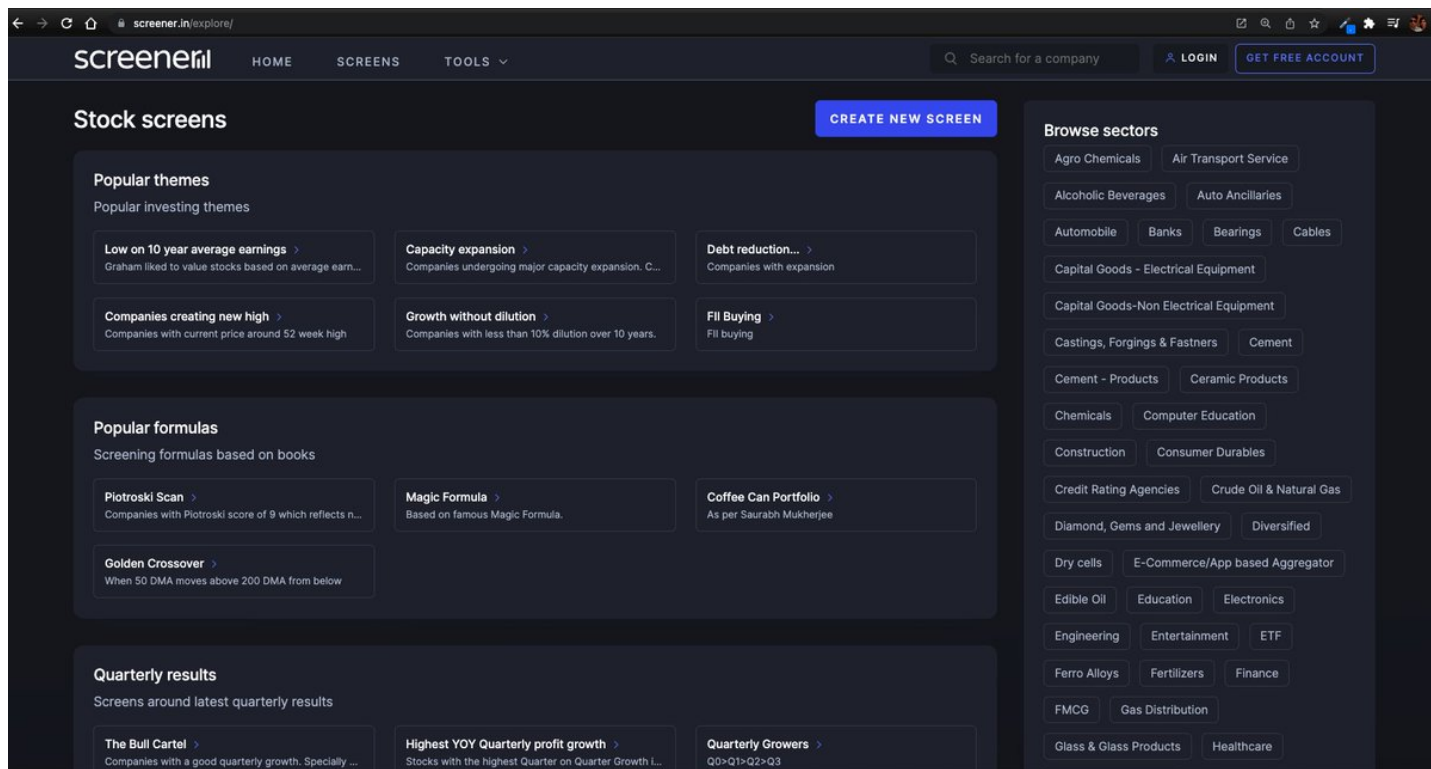

Step1

Go to <https://t.co/jtOL2Bpoys>

Step2

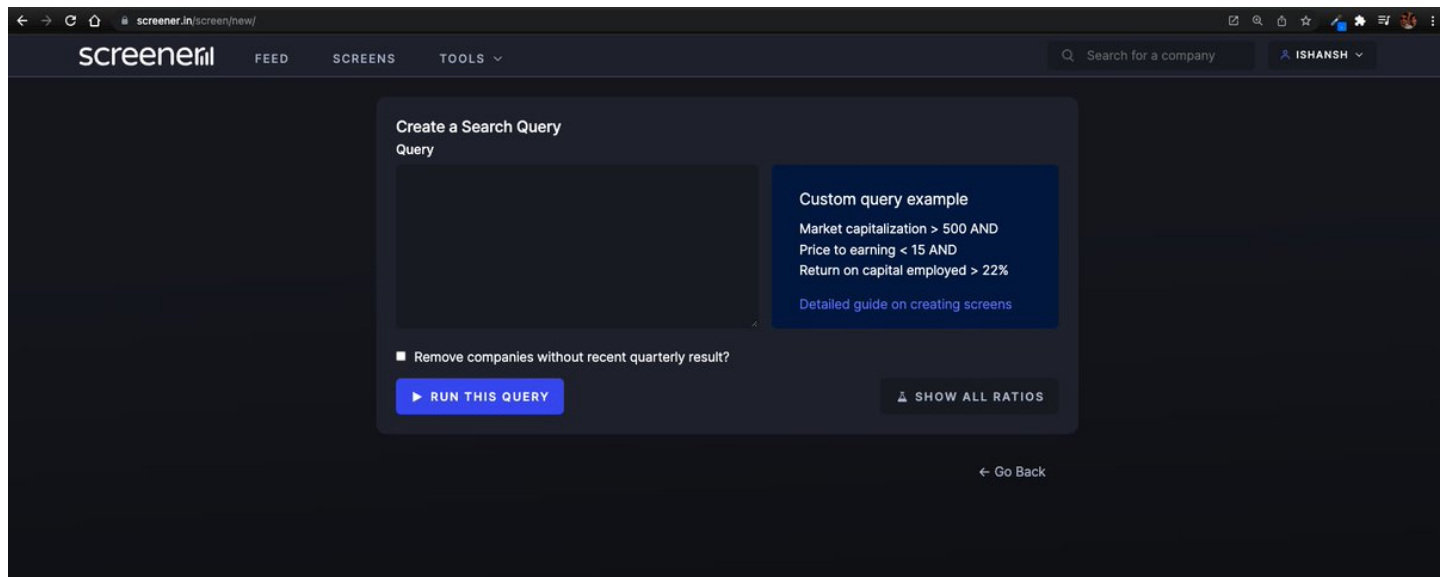

Go to "SCREENS" tab

Step3

Go to "CREATE NEW SCREEN"

At this point you need to register. No charges. I did that with my brother's email id. This is what you see after that.

Imagine screener to be a way to access a huge database of all companies listed (present & past) in India. Screener allows us to search through that database using some simple math operations like:

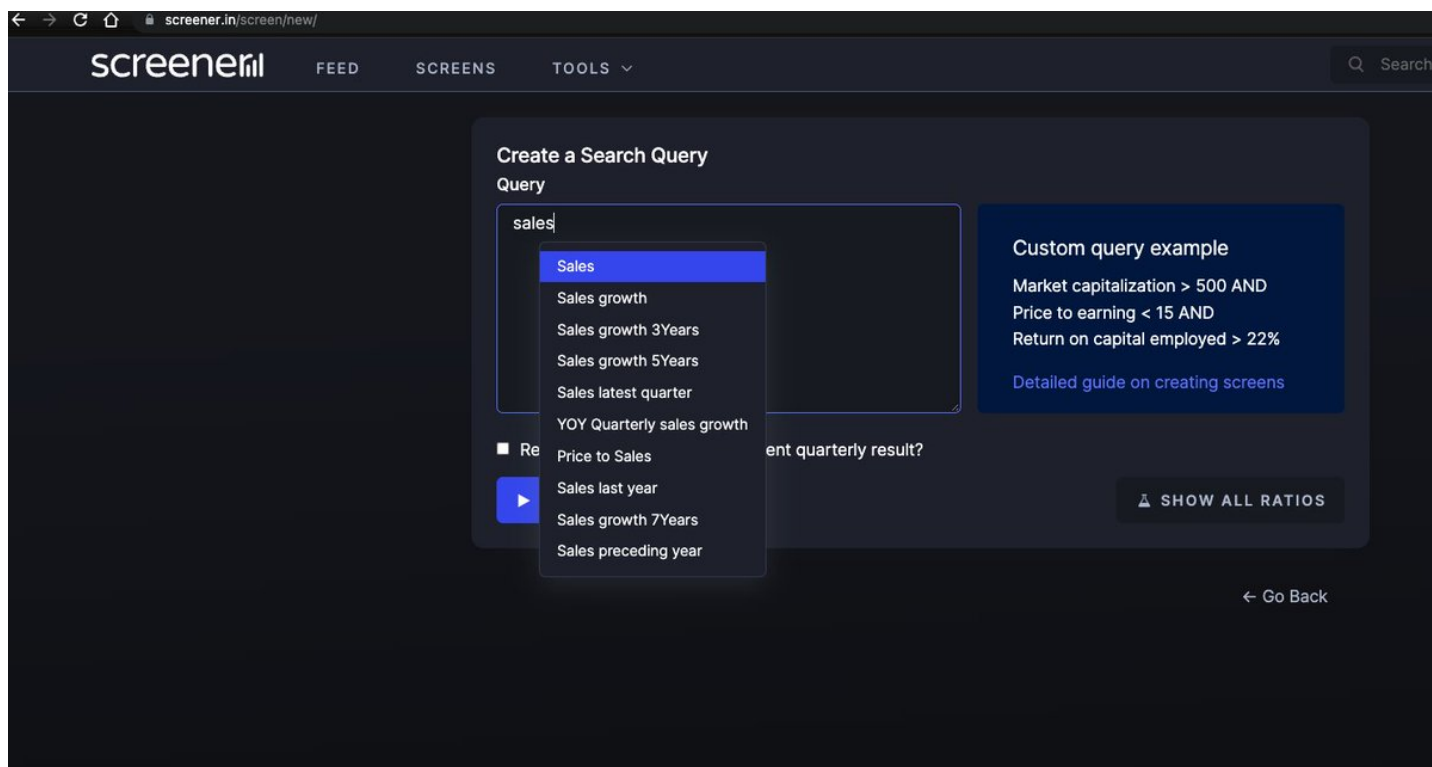

"Show me all largecap companies with sales growing at 20%"

Because computers do not understand english, you need to put this in 'mathematical' form.

Step 4

Start typing the metric which you care about. In this case "sales". As I do that, screener automatically suggests many metrics it knows about each company which contain the word "sales".

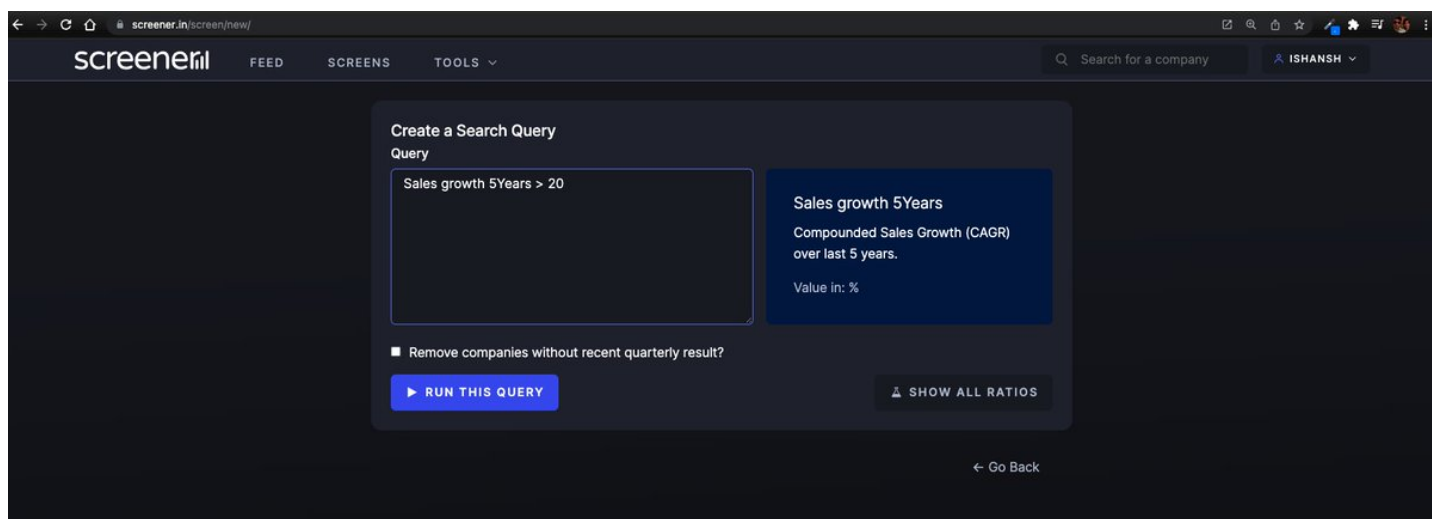

Step 5

Think of screener as a way to "narrow down" the set of companies in indian listed universe.

Since we care about sales growth let me select sales growth 5 years. Now, in order to narrow down, I will restrict to companies with "sales growth 5 years" more than "20%".

This is encoded as below:

Aaand you're done, congratulations, you have your 1st screen. Click on "RUN THIS QUERY" to see all companies with sales CAGR over last 5 years being at least 20%.

What we immediately see is screener says "463 results found". That's a lot. I cannot manually go through 463 companies in any reasonable amount of time (say 5 hours). We did narrow down from 3861 companies to 463 So yay!

Wait, how did i figure out total # of companies on screener? Think in terms of screeners.

I 'screened' for "sales growth > -1000"

That's a Neat trick.

Search Query

You can customize the query below:

Query

Sales growth > -1000

Okay, back to our simple screener. We have 463 companies with 5 year sales cagr > 20%. But we cant go through all of them. Let us put some more restrictions. Let us look at large caps only. I define large cap as a company with market capitalization > 10000 (crore).

Since I want ALL of these different 'attributes' in my target company:

(i) its sales cagr should be at least 20%

(ii) its market cap should be at least 10000 that is why i use an 'AND' operator between those 2 statements.

It works exactly like english.

Okay, so we now have a list of 46 companies. This is much more manageable. I can definitely at least eyeball 46 companies in 5 hours. If i were a large-cap focussed investor this is what i might do.

If you think about it, screeners are living breathing creators. Because, they operate on living breathing dynamic creatures: companies.

As companies change, their 5 year sales CAGR rises & falls. And they go in & out of this screener.

If you want screener to actively TRACK these changes AND email you any new companies which start meeting this screener OR update us about companies which no longer meet this screener, you can just click on "GET UPDATES BY EMAIL" & screener will email you whenever a company goes...

2. Practical Example: CoffeeCan Companies

Perhaps the most famous formulaic search for companies is Coffee Can investing.

Recent article from @scripbox talks about what this is:

In short: Companies with consistent sales growth, consistent profitability (return on capital).

Is Coffee Can investing better than Mutual Funds in India?

By  Aditya Agrawal • Updated on 10 Nov, 2021

What is Coffee Can Investing?

Coffee Can Investing approach refers to “buy and forget” to investing in shares of companies which have performed well consistently. The concept of coffee can investing has originated from the US markets, where it is highly successful.

The story behind the Coffee Can portfolio traces its roots back to the American Old West. Back then, people would secure their valuables by putting them in a coffee can. The coffee can was then placed under their mattress for safe-keeping, where it stayed for years, or even decades. An investment manager by the name of Robert Kirby proposed in 1984 that investors could follow the same investing strategy. They identify a diversified portfolio of consistently performing companies, invest in their stocks and keep invested for at least 10 years.

In the Indian context, coffee can portfolio has been defined in the book “The Unusual

Hmmm.... sales growth we know. Return on capital can be measured through Return on Equity which works for all sort of companies (financials, non financials).

Okay, so let us head over to screener & look to augment our screener.

First of all, we must lower our sales growth target from 20%. Coffee can originally prescribes 10% sales growth, let me get a bid greedy & look for 12% sales growth.

Let me also look for companies which are at least 1B$ (7000cr) in marketcap. Let me look for ROE of 15%. Now the cool part is you type ROE & screener auto-suggests average return on equity 5 years and we end up with:

I am not. Because Coffee Can looks for "Consistent growth". How do we encode for consistency?

We want growth & profitability meet our minimum bar over all periods of time (definition of consistency). Screener has 3 year, 5 year, 7 year. Then let us modify our screener.

It looks like this:

Search Query

You can customize the query below:

Average return on equity 7Years > 15

☐ Remove companies without recent quarterly result?

▶ RUN THIS QUERY

And when i run it, lo & behold we are only left with 35 companies! We were able to cut our 1st step universe by more than half by insisting on "consistency".

A lot of these are companies you must have heard of, divis, pi industries, aurobindo, hdfc bank, hcl tech, astral, Dr lal, syngene, alkyl amines, cdsl, dixon, apl apollo tubes.

Coffee can investor now has a decent universe of 35 companies to study & decide what meets their investment criterion. Here is the screen: <https://t.co/r2u6pXvzh0>
Feel free to explore.

3. Practical Example: Smallcap Consistent compounders
This is where it starts getting interesting. This is my investable universe.

What do I look for in a smallcap consistent compounder?

Well first of all its market cap should be at most 1B$ (7000cr). Because smallcaps.

Search Query

You can customize the query below:

☐ Remove companies without recent quarterly result?

▶ RUN THIS QUERY

Let us look for companies with at least 15% CAGR growth. However, since smallcaps are small by definition, let us relax our 'consistency' criterion & look for 15% growth only in last 1 year & last 3 year period (skipping 5 & 7 year period).

Search Query

☐ Remove companies without recent quarterly result?

▶ RUN THIS QUERY

Think about what i did there.

Last 1 year has been tumultuous. Once in a century pandemic. Asking for 15% sales growth in such an environment not only in last 1 year, but last 3 year CAGR is a pretty strict condition. This is why my universe shrinks from 1600 to 204.

Go study.

4. Practical Example: Smallcap turnaround

Perhaps the hardest thing to capture is turnarounds. But we can capture this too.

Since we are looking for turnarounds, i cannot expect consistency. So no 'hard' requirements on 5 year financials. Higher requirement on growth, turnaround hai bhai. Acceleration of growth (last year sales growth more than 3 year CAGR).

You can add any of the existing columns that you want to add:

Let us add market cap/sales so that we can sort by 'valuations':
Click on "SAVE COLUMNS"

Voila, we see our new column. Let us sort by M.Cap/Sales. Most expensive (by numeric valuation ALONE without business understanding) consistent compounder is PI industries.

5. Key takeaway:

I bet one can make a 15-20% compounder portfolio from scratch by studying these 50-60 companies.
Put your head down, get going. :)

Before someone points out, I had made a related thread earlier:

<https://t.co/dDVrza2mY6>

But i felt that one did not go into enough detail & did not share the screeners properly & so i am trying to do it again, this time more structured.

A lot of people ask: how do you find companies to invest in? very good question.

How did you find RACL, Pix?

Creating this ad-hoc thread to share my process.

if you like it, please RT to benefit maximum investors. \U0001f64f

As always nothing in this thread is a buy or sell reco. Do your own due diligence. I am not a sebi registered analyst or investment advisor.

Do not borrow conviction. A 20-30% fall ought to have taught us that by now.

Study hard. Party karder. :D
