Last week I got a link from Ahrefs (domain authority 90). Huge SEO win!

But it didn't just happen. I had to make it happen.

Here's how I did it.

A month ago Ahrefs published an article about the best marketing newsletters.

As soon as I saw it, I knew Zero to Marketing had to be in there!

There was just one problem.

I had to pitch @timsoulo, a guy who writes posts like this one ■

So what I did was I kept a patient eye on him on Twitter, waiting for an opening.

OUTREACH & CONTENT PROMOTION

I Just Deleted Your Outreach Email Without Reading. And NO, I Don't Feel Sorry.

Quick SEO tip:

Wanna get links that might send you consistent referral traffic?

- Go to @ahrefs Content Explorer;
- Look for pages that mention your topic;
- Filter for min. search traffic;
- Export the list of amazing link prospects

..hope you have solid outreach skills

Uhm interesting, let's try this for "best marketing newsletters"!

7 Best Marketing Newsletters (Most Voted For) - Ahrefs

Feb 19, 2021 — We asked over 20000 marketers to vote for their favorite marketing newsletters. These are the newsletters that received the most votes.

Oh, look what I found on the first page! Seems like a perfect match! 🔥

Act 3 - The objection

7 Best Marketing Newsletters (Most Voted For)

But it says "most voted for" and my newsletter is quite new. Not many people know about it yet so I don't have many chances... 😞

Act 4 - The counter

Wait, they polled their audience on Twitter!
And the most upvoted replies are a couple of influential persons naming me 🌟

Four more newsletters for marketers

Unless you derive joy from seeing your inbox flooded with marketing newsletters, the above suggestions are likely enough to keep you up-to-date. But the participants of our poll did vote for a few others, so here are four that received a few votes.

And the article has a section dedicated to the ones that didn't make it to the top but got a few mentions. My newsletter fits that description 🙌

Luckily for me Tim liked the pitch!

And after a few days they added my newsletter to the article ■

lol

that's a good pitch :)

As your site becomes more popular it might start getting links organically.

But until then you need to get out of your comfort zone and promote it because no one else will do it for you!
