Tabletop RPG storytime:

Milui is an orc lady abandoned at birth. Nobody except her parents would know why she was abandoned, but nowadays at a height of seven feet and shoulders broader even most orc males, it might have been because she's a freak. (1/9)

Still, she was found by two wonderful elves who raised her as their own as best as they could. She had trouble fitting in at the often elitist Elven Society, but she did her best to make up for her muscular build by exploring typically feminine hobbies. (2/9)

In particular she learned to create make-up herself, and was always trying to learn about how to make new shades, and new ways to make and use it. She decided to explore the world and expand her knowledge of cosmetology beyond the Elven guilds' knowledge.

In that process she befriended a group of adventurers with which she joined forces. On their travels, they found a campsite ravaged and abandoned. As they tried to figure out what had happened, the Cause sprang upon them.
(4/9)

A youngling green dragon. Not fully grown, but more than powerful enough to defeat a group of seasoned adventurers. Milui saw it about to attack her friends, channeling her bottled up anger into an explosive force of strength, and hacked into the beast with her sword.
(5/9)

It was a ferocious battle. With her incredulous strength Milui grabbed all the attention of the beast, and it retaliated in kind. The two terrifying beasts brutally hacked in on each other until both were at the verge of collapse.
(6/9)

The dragon lashed out with a terrifying bite, and the orc's blood gushed everywhere. A regular woman would've collapsed and bled out on the spot, but Milui was too stubborn and too angry to die.

(7/9)

With the last of her strength she raised her sword one last time, and with her life on the line she cut through the Dragon's neck like a hot knife through butter. The fight was over, but the battered Milui was in no mood to celebrate.
(8/9)

She just let out a terrifying wail of anger, pain, and desperation. Her teammates had to patch her up quick, otherwise she would have perished alongside the dragon.

The end, that is why Milui is awesome and you should all love her as much as I do.
