Twitter Thread by Goad Gatsby

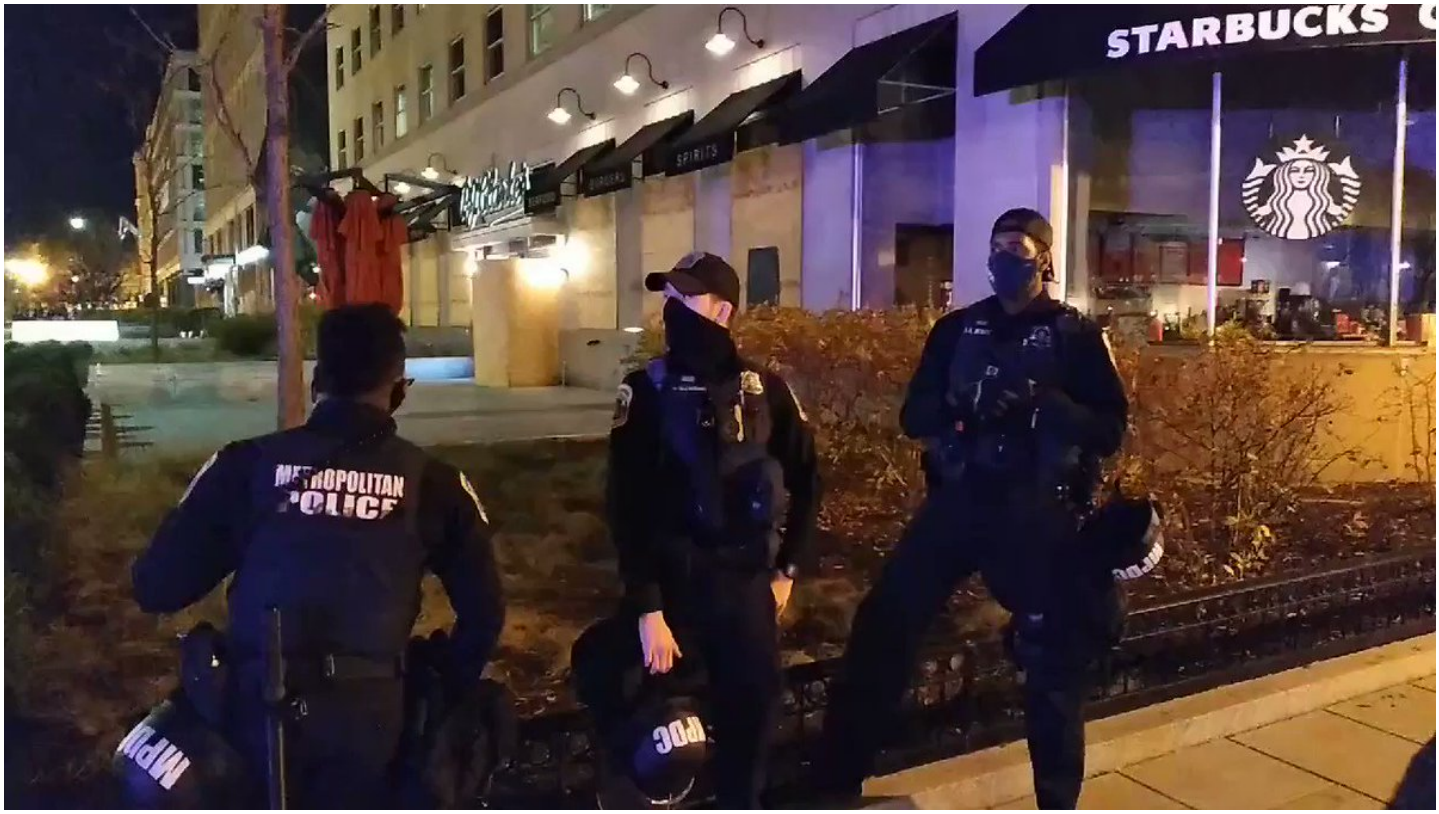

Goad Gatsby
@GoadGatsby

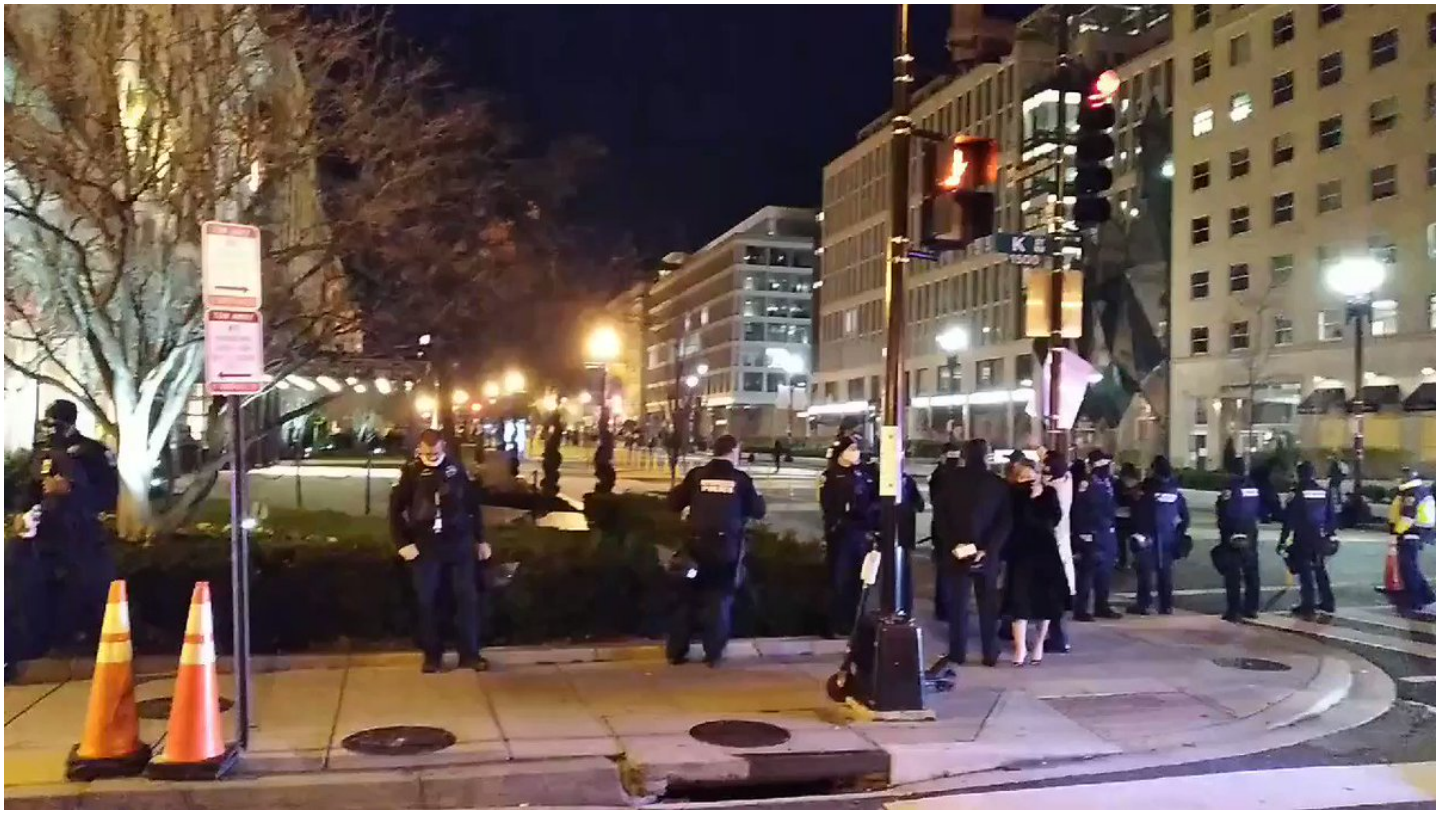

I am in Washington DC. My glasses are fogged up and the police are blocking me from getting into Black Lives Matter Plaza. Proud Boys are in the area but I can't find them.

Police are out and not letting anyone through

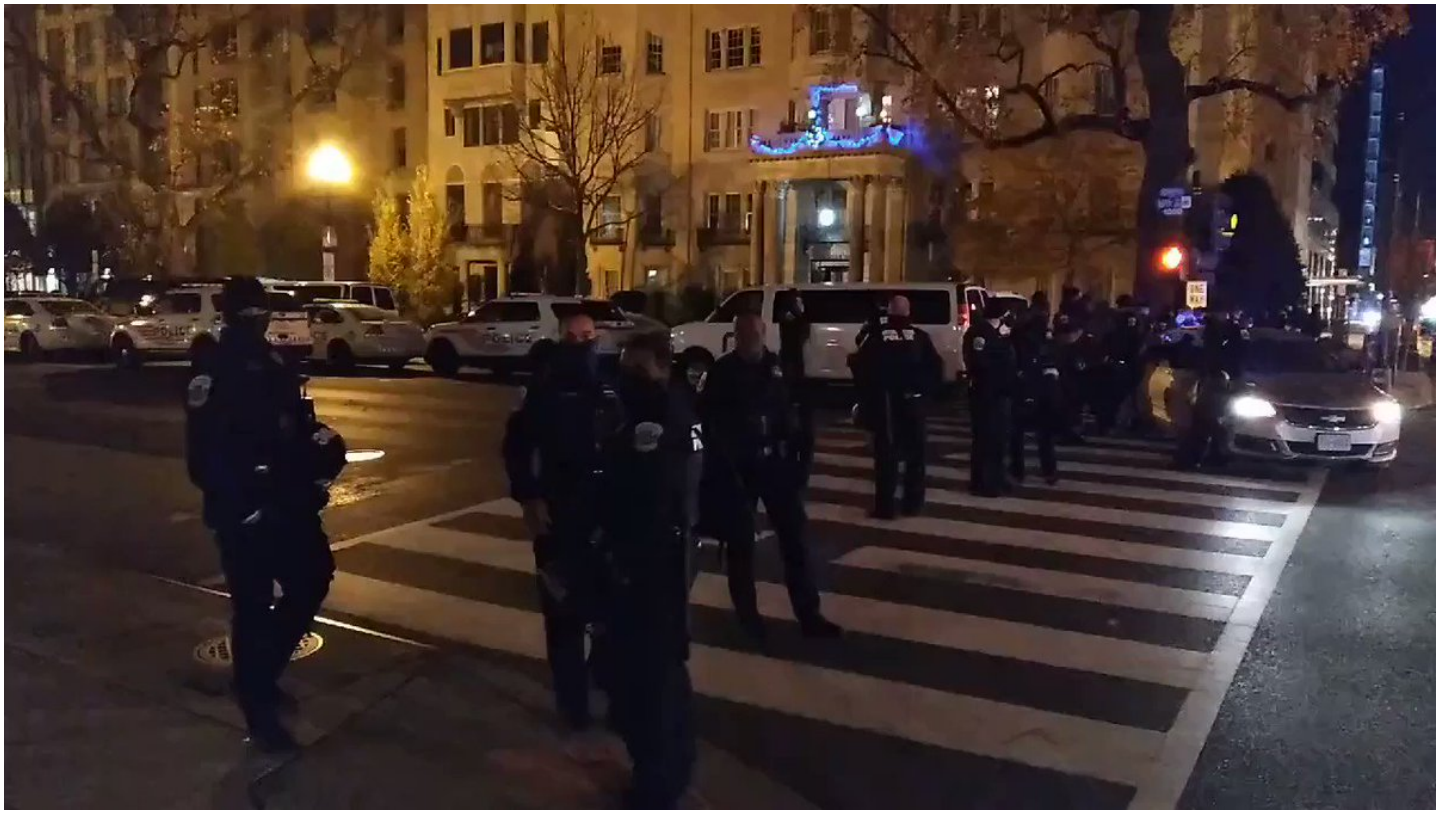

I haven't gotten any word why I can't pass but I know I can't. Meanwhile it seems like someone is playing NWA while someone is giving what sounds like a prayer service.

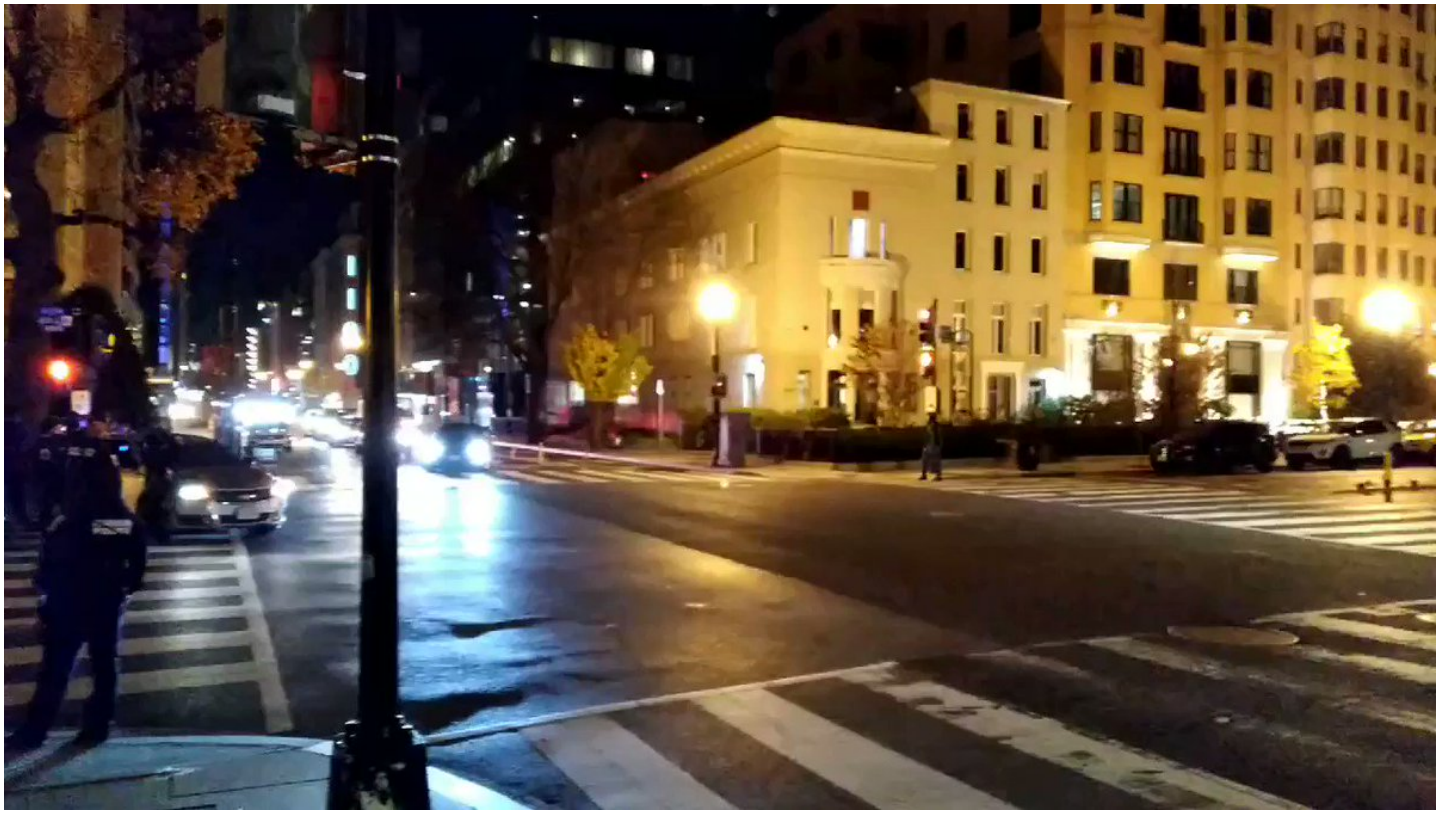

the only people getting thru are staying at a local hotel within, soit looks like my free passage is obstructed

Just hanging on a downtown DC street

That ambulance just did a double pass on this street in order to get around the police barricades.

This is totally bizarre. This ambulance is just taking multiple passes thru this area. Is this normal for DC?

