"Is juju real?" now you have a bunch of Christians in a room telling you juju is real because of course Christianity is real. I find these questions to be a waste of time.

"juju is real because how do you know juju isn't real. You need to open your mind". Very sound argument.

This one said even plant has spirit. What Albert Einstein did is also written in the Bible. E = MC square. Now he's talking about holiness and removing slippers, I don't know wetin concern this one with "is JuJu real?"

Apparently Africans have the strongest resistance to JuJu because our dark skin colour reacts to dark magic.

Someone has finally asked if JuJu is real why is the black race still at the bottom of the barrel?

Getting ready to hear the juju is only good for bad things like.

Someone has brought up the $1m reward for who can prove JuJu in a controlled environment? Why person never collect the $1m since?

"We shouldn't dissect people's juju stories to look for truth".

Again, what's the point of this room? ■

We're about to hear if juju is real from a Pastor, no bias here at all lol
