It's time to do a thread about @NeilDotObrien. This arrogant, self-serving, narcissistic, devoid of empathy and pathetic excuse for a human being, continues to spout nonsense on his Twitter page instead of doing his actual job as an MP.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien do not care that lockdown measures across the developed world, will push an extra 150+ million people into absolute poverty, which will mean them starving to death over the next 10 years. He doesn't care if people can't eat, because it doesn't affect him.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien don't care about the millions pushed into unemployment; the millions of small and medium sized businesses going bankrupt; entire family businesses seeing decades of their hard work disappear overnight due to avoidable lockdown measures.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien earn a salary of £81,932, more than £50k above the national average salary. He is not affected by a loss of income, had his wages reduced to 80% on furlough or worried where his next pay cheque will come from. Why? Because he doesn't care.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien don't care that we have accrued the biggest public debt since WW2, and that these measures are actively destroying a once sound economy which will lead to the greatest economic depression since The Great Frost of 1709.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien don't understand that a thriving economy means significantly more money for to fund a better and improved National Health Service, increases longevity of life; increases quality of life and will vastly improve overall wealth & development opportunities.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien don't care about the significant increase in adult and CHILD suicides; the incredible and unnecessary suffering; the extreme increase in depression and anxiety; the fact that some people are struggling to find a reason to live or to keep going at all.

MP's like @NeilDotObrien don't care about the increase in domestic violence, the increase in child abuse, the increase in self-harm amongst children and teenagers; the complete lack of access to education by millions of school children which will affect an entire generation.

MP’s like @NeilDotObrien don’t care that the elderly are being left to die alone in care homes; that they are literally dying of loneliness from the relentless isolation; that they are being refused visits from their families & suffering for their final months against their will.

MPs like @NeilDotObrien who have no medical qualifications or experience in epidemiology or virology, instead choose to ignore expert scientific advice or alternative views such as those advised by https://t.co/DA7pMKKIa9

MPs like @NeilDotObrien ignore that according to published studies the median IFR of SARS-CoV2 is 0.23% (compared to the IFR of influenza which is ~0.1%) nor does he acknowledge that the median IFR of SARS-CoV2 for those under 70 years old is 0.05%. That’s half that of flu.
