How to join a developer community?
or
How to find mentors/developer friends?

A detailed thread ■■

For context I have been a part of various developer communities for ~3 Years. I have found that learning with people is the best and most effective way to learn.

So here are the ways you can join a developer community:

■ If you are a student

Many companies have their campus ambassadors/ Hack clubs / Developer club program that you can join or lead in your campus.

Some of my favorites:

■■Student Ambassador program @Microsoft (I am a part of this for 2 years now)
