Since today is #ARSMUN , here is my combined 11 for the two.
I use the 4-3-3 formation, with 2 holding midfielders nd an attacking midfielder .

1.BERND LENO
A tough decision between the two great goal keepers, I go with Bernd.
Though he just edges David

2. AARON WAN-BISSAKA
We all believe Aaron has been better this season compared to the Arsenal right back Bellerin.

3. KIREAN TIERNEY
There is going to be a heated discussion here, Like shaw has been good too. But KT takes this in my line up.

4. ERIC BAILEY
The Ivory coast defender has been good this season and has saved united on several occasions. He slides in this line up with ease

5. HARRY MAGUIRE

The £80M defender will be chosen alongside his teammate in central defence. Their partnership has proven to be the best for ole's side this season

6. GRANIT XHAKA

The Swiss comes in to play the defensive and holding roles in my midfield. Many might argue with my selection, but GRANIT has been good with assists and goals this season, and has done good defensively for his side

7. BUKAYO SAKA

The young gun gets his slot without competition. He is basically Arsenal's best player

8. PAUL POGBA

Being a french national football team supporter, Paul has to be in this team, not because I like him, but because I have watched him in several teams and he possess every trait a midfielder should have. He partners with Xhaka.

9. ALEXANDRE LACAZETTE

The french striker comes ahead of the likes of Aubameyang, Cavani, Martial, and Ighalo, he is not having the best season, but his work rate and team work earns him a place in this line up

10. BRUNO FERNANDES

Do I have to say much about the portuguese?? He has been amazing since his arrival in munchester. He arguably the best player on the planet right now. His creative traits can win you every match.

11. MARCUS RASHFORD MBE

It had to be Marcus here. He is not on a good run for the past 4 or 5 games, but he was phenomenal since the begining of the season. He beats Greenwood or Aubameyang to the spot on the left wing.

My bench
1. David Dagea
2. Luke shaw
3. Rob Holding
4. Thomas Partey
5. Mason Greenwood
6. Scott Mctominy
7. Aubameyang
