Twitter Thread by sofia sjöberg

sofia sjöberg
@risalusofia

#3 Deep state, the operational and strategic planning and establishment of the intelligence service collective? When did it start? Why Sweden?

Carl goes through "a couple" of people who over time are important, people who "did not know" each other even though they were close sometimes even siblings or mother and father ... After the review, you probably understand the meaning and need of history revision

When you understand history and that this DS is global, every country has its own DS, you also understand that it could never have happened in any other way and you will unconditionally understand why YOU are important and now it´s time to make a stand.

We start in 1905- "the first attempt" to take control.
Keep this in mind.
Control over strategic natural resource flows and natural resources, control over the means of payment and control over the telecom infrastructure.

The largest country logically has the largest assets, so we start with Tsar Nikolai the Second and the first attempt at Revolution. To speed things up, the Russian-Japanese War also started. One of the financiers of the war was named Shiff ...

...and the one who handled the financing from the Japanese side was named Takahashi.
This attempt at revolution failed, but Takahashi is on the timeline until 1932. American funding for a socialist revolution? The emperor of Japan at this time was Hirohito (the Elder)...

...His son was the one who delayed World War II and then there just happened to be time for atomic bombs.
The atomic bomb was the momentum for the creation of the Cold War. It is strange when you start going through the few people who have been in control, you soon discover... that a remarkable part of these have intimate connections to Sweden. And as a cherry on top to one and the same financial family. Arvid Lindman, leader of the Swedish right at the time of the Russian-Japanese war. At the same time, there is a whole group of people in...

the Swedish parliament, not just any group of people and it could have been a coincidence or it is not. Either or.. "Luck is when circumstances come to preparation"
If you control information flows around the world, luck is not a factor but a fact, an absolutely safe card.

Arvid Lindman was: Naval officer, chairman of the Swedish telephone company (1905), industry leader, senior adjutant in Oscar the second staff. Telephone companies would never listen to anyone, much like a labrador would never steal a piece of food....

Karl Warburg (sounds familiar? During World War II Warburg UPS bank.) Warburg was Swedish and sat in the Riksdag together with Lindman and Wallenberg at the same time in the same party but they "did not know each other". They did not know each other will be a bit of an MO

Karl Warburg Liberal Coalition Party, created opinion for Gothenburg Maritime News, founded the Nobel Library.
The Nobel Foundation's connections to the Wallenberg family are not modest and you make of it what you will.

Gustaf Wallenberg

Sweden's first diplomat (Asia) Sweden was not interested in the past haunting us. We had a history of drug trafficking with the East India Company and slave trade on St Barth since the days of Axel Oxenstierna when the slave trade was considered legitimate.

Other countries traded with slaves but Sweden held the "stock exchange" for the slave trade so we can be proud that we were moral and did not keep slaves. Of course, Wallenberg did not know Warburg and Lindman, even though they all belonged to the Liberal Party at the same time.

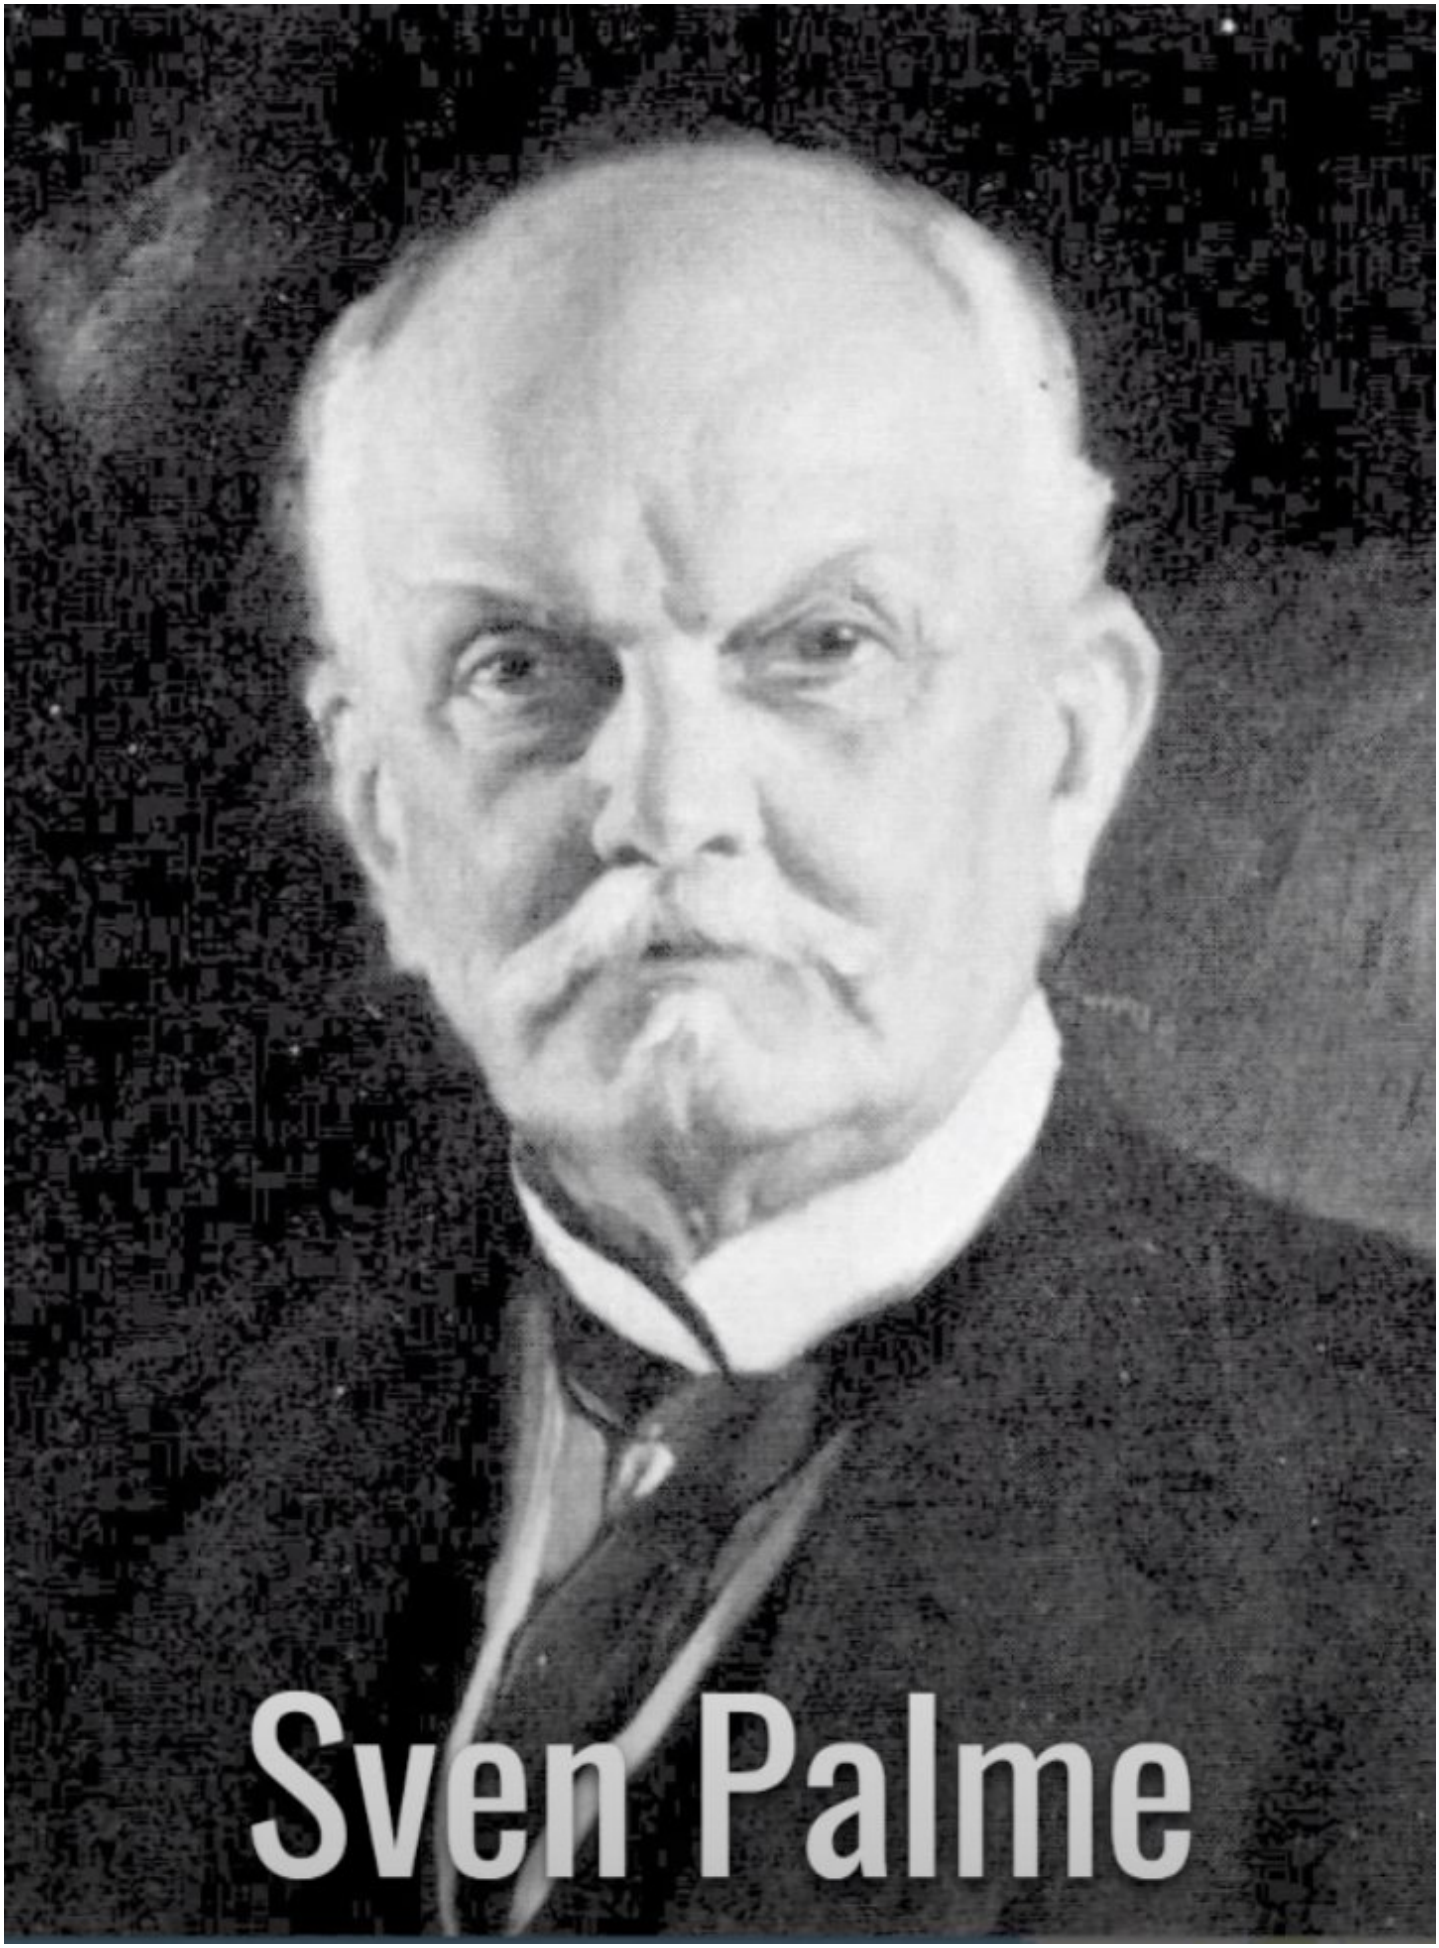

Gustaf Wallenberg started a new shipping company called Ostaseat- East Asia. Funny enough, right after the shipping company was formed, Sweden signed a new agreement with China (1907). The former shipping company had a successful agreement in 1846-48 and shipped opium ...

...to China, among other places. Now there was nothing about opium in the agreements but we have not inspected the boats;)
Sweden became a power factor and the counterparty in China was what became the triads or the white dragon, ie the deep state

Wallenberg was also chairman of the railway ab - salt lake. Transport of strategic natural resource flows was of course understood to be important. Keep that in mind.
Wallenbergs is starting to connect more and more to themselves as core technology - telephones and then...

... the small players can do what they want in the form of entrepreneurship if you control the core yourself.
If you own the core companies, you have control and everyone is dependent on you and pays you everything from license fees to use your railways, telephone lines, etc.

Sven Palme has had a not so insignificant connection to the communist movements especially Palmedutt in india.
He also created what became Thule insurance company and the importance of this you understand when we arrive at the seizing Jewish property during World War II...

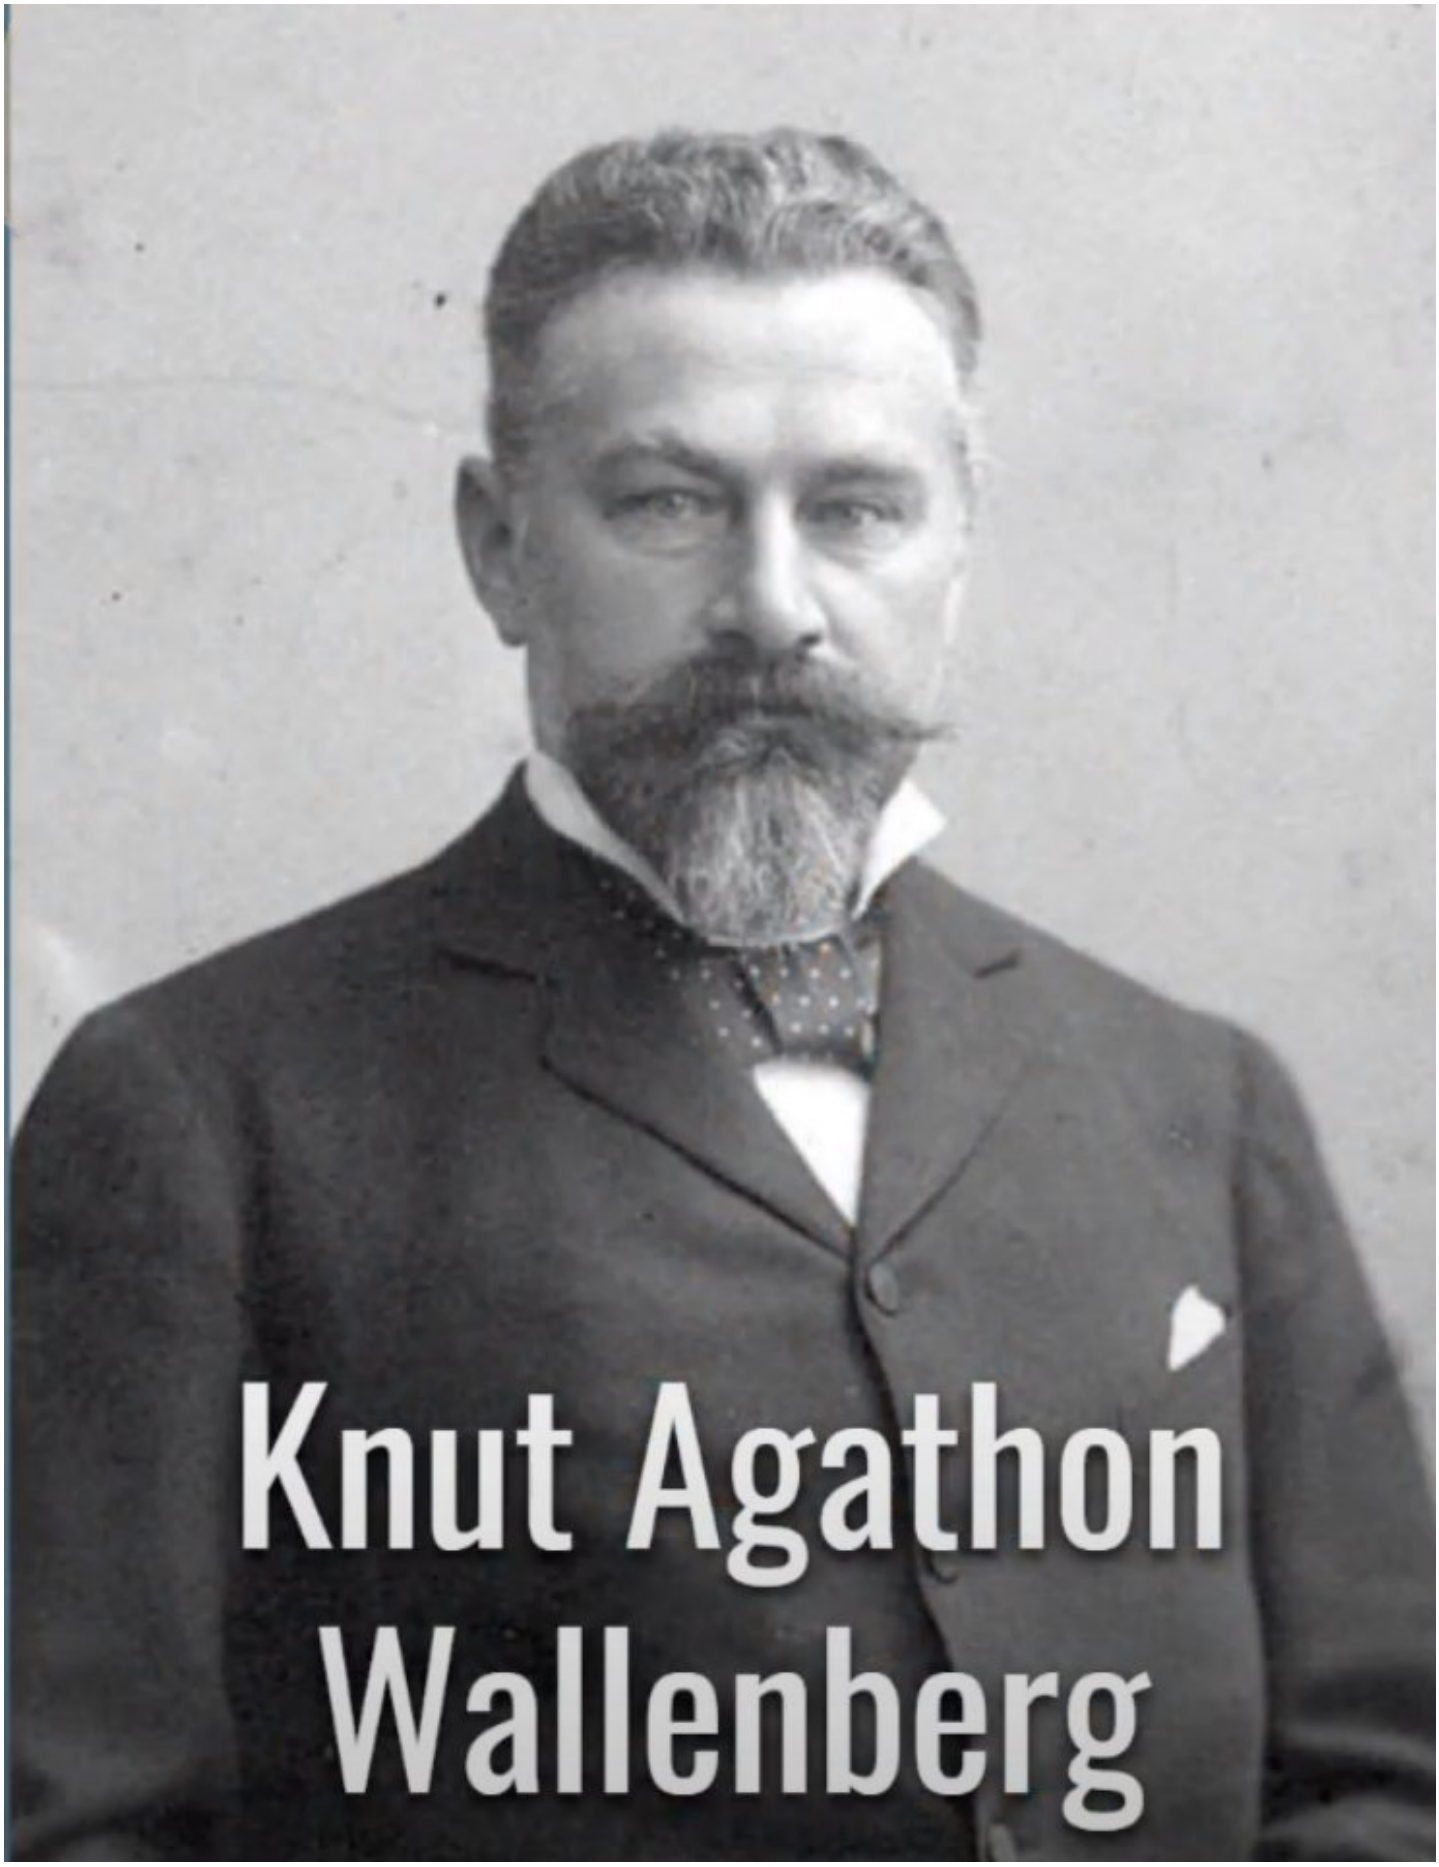

So MO Palme, Lindman, Warburg and Wallenberg were all members of the Liberal Party at the same time but they did NOT know each other.

The insurance company brought something else with it as well. A coordination function was created in Europe between insurance companies ...

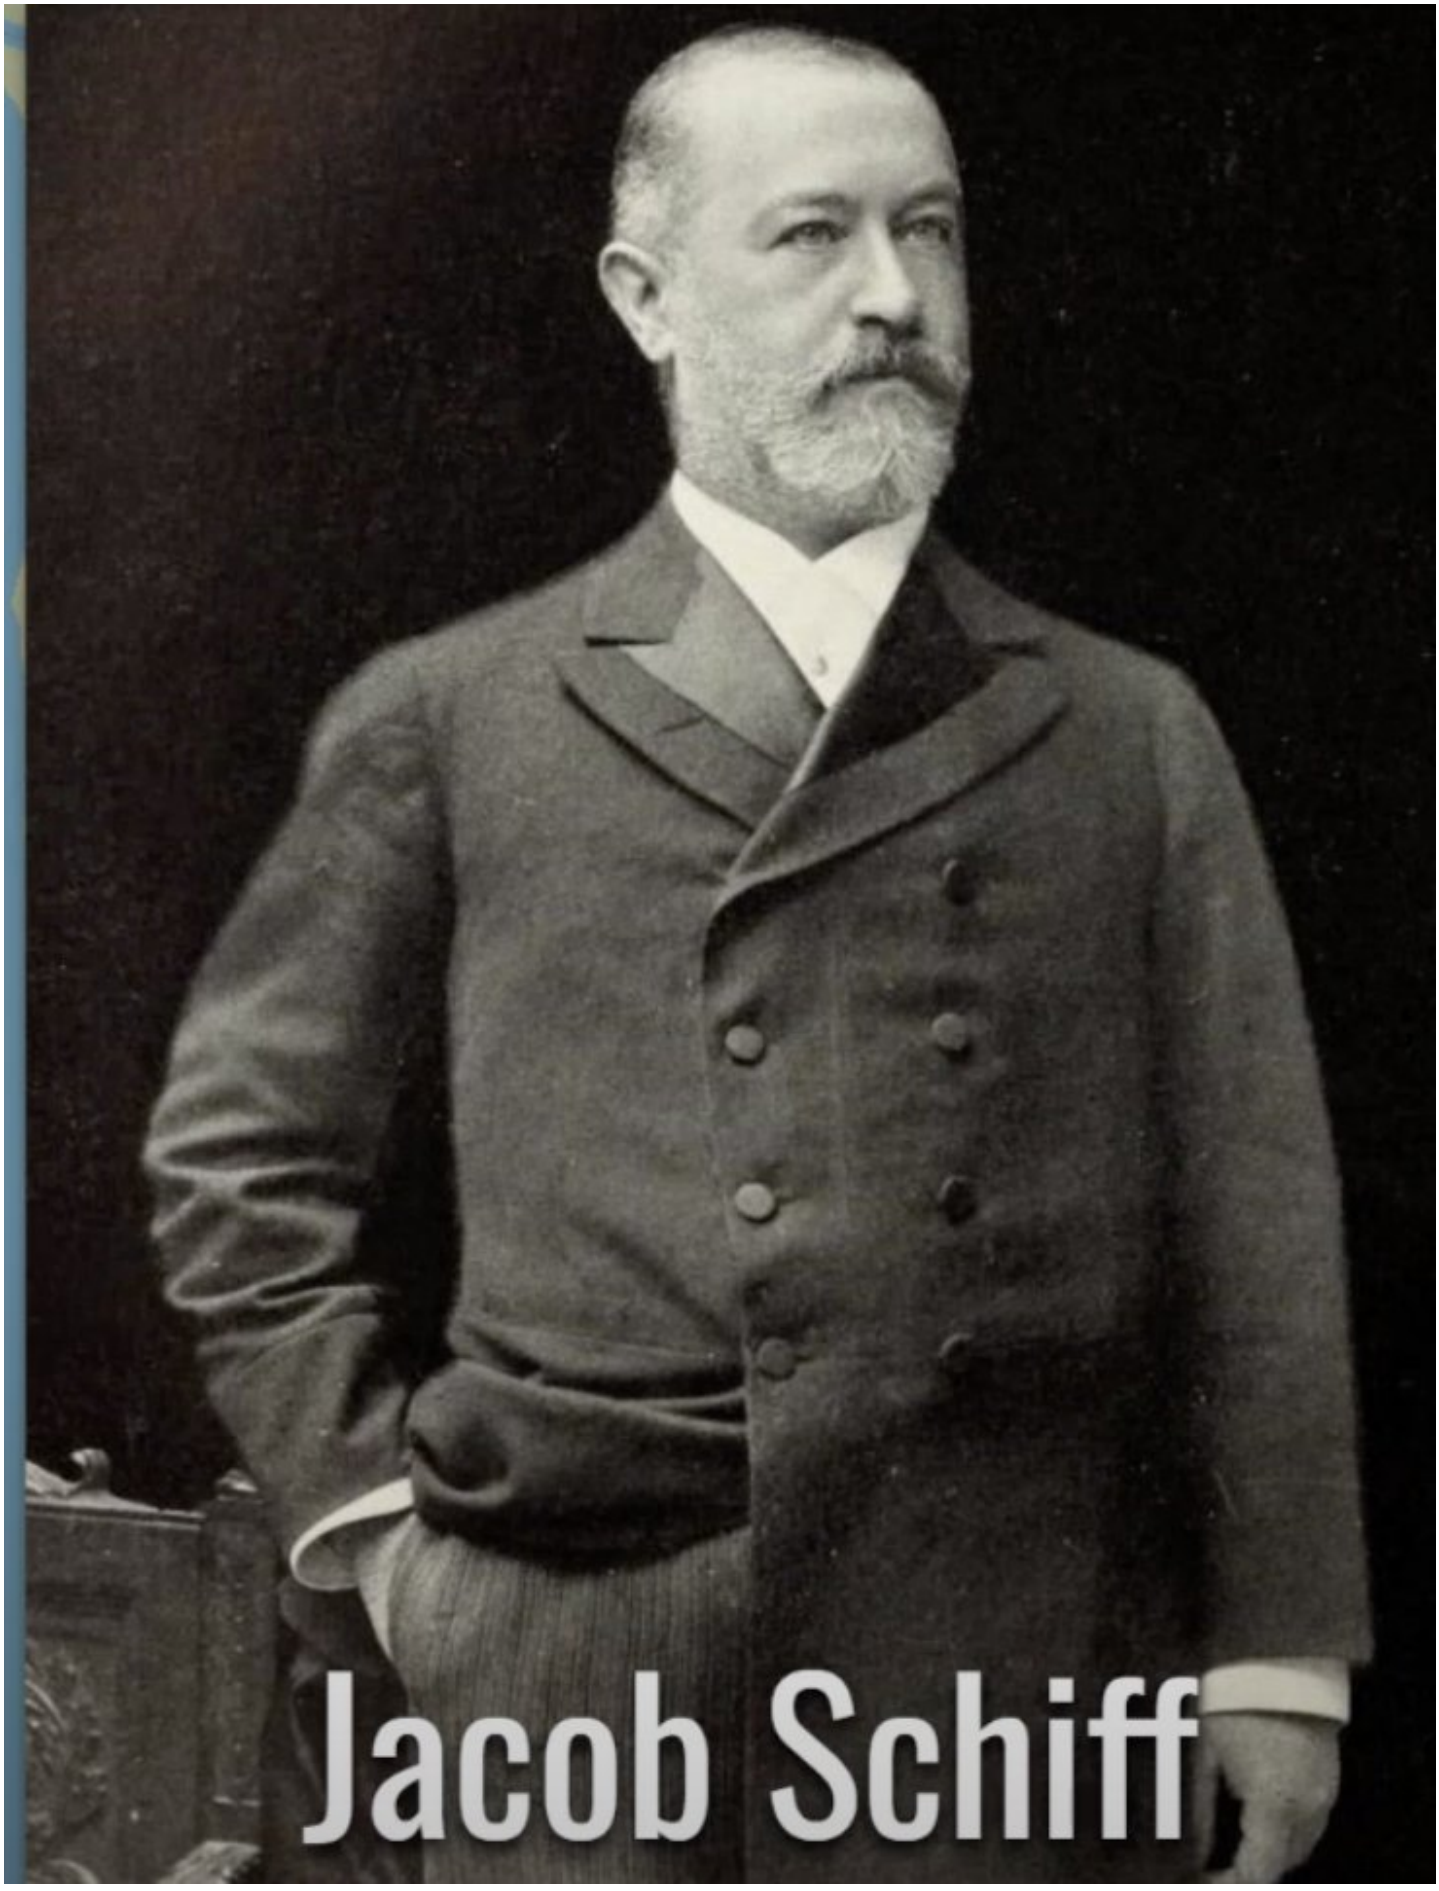

and this meant that they had a catalog of all expensive things in Europe. Convenient if you want to seize things in one way or another.

Knut Agathon Wallenberg didn't know any of the others off course since they all worked together. The board of Stockholms enskilda bank, chairman of the business school association (worth thinking about the term stockholmsskolan which has produced many social engineers, Myrdahls..

...to name someone that the Americans can associate with - Sanger) Agathon founded the British Bank of Northern Commerce in 1912. If you think the market was free as their party stated you might want to rethink this. We never had free markets.

Jacob Shiff back to the first try of an revolution i Russia.
American banker who lent 200 million to the Russian-Japanese war.
The second attempt went better when telephone lines were more standard and the Tsar was happy with his gold and ebony phone but his intelligence...

...service was not as happy with the end result as the Tsar was known to be murdered and so was the whole family.

Frida Shiff married to Warburg. Warburgs connections to Sweden is to the center of power the riksdag. Warburgs did not control any telephone operations so they could not run free,Someone is always listening. At this point, the modern deep state begins to emerge. The state ...

that always listens but does not care.
Felix Warburg is in the next chapter. In a new thread the modern DS.