#SamsungUnpacked

THREAD ABOUT SAMSUNG and my Disappointment:

Samsung, when are you gonna make a device again which makes the fans not being disappointed in you?

In the past couple of years, when i watch Unpacked, my reaction is not "Awesome" or "Cool" or "i like that"

mostly it's "Oh no, another disappointment"

Why?
A few reasons here:
Removing Headphone jack, Removing Iris Sensor, Removing SD Slot, Removing Charger, Removing Headphones, Removing Heart rate Sensor, Removing IR Blaster, yet still Increasing prices and so on and so on.

I use your products for over a decade and i never was so disappointed in you like in the past (2 to 3 years)
You were a company that listened to the consumers.

If we weren't happy with or about something, you changed it with the next S or Note Device.

But now, all that counts is just the Money and that's actually pretty sad.

You mock Apple and other companies, just to follow them a few weeks or months later.

I appreciate your commitment to new technology and innovation but i CAN NOT support you with your decisions you made in the past 2 to 3 years.

It makes me sad to see which path you're taking and that you don't care that you leave your roots.

But hey, who am i, right? I don't have millions of followers. So no reason to listen to me?!

I'm just a consumer who supported you throughout all the years. I defended you, i fought for you, i invested dozens of hours in explaining to people why they should buy Samsung and not an other brand...

and all of that, for what? For you to let us loyal fans down lying to us and disappoint us year after year.

Why "lying"? Example: Charger - you say, it's for the environment but that's a lie. If this would be the reason, you would not charge anything for the charger.

8/9 just like Xiaomi does with the Mi 11.

I don't expect much from this thread but i still hope that some YouTubers or bloggers will see this and maybe talk about it or interact otherwise. If not, it's ok too

I don't want fame or anything, i just want that @SamsungMobile wakes up and understands what they are doing and whos they are disappointing and lying to.

And yes, i know. Samsung is a company and they want to make money, don't try to teach me.
