Twitter Thread by Joe Kinnaird

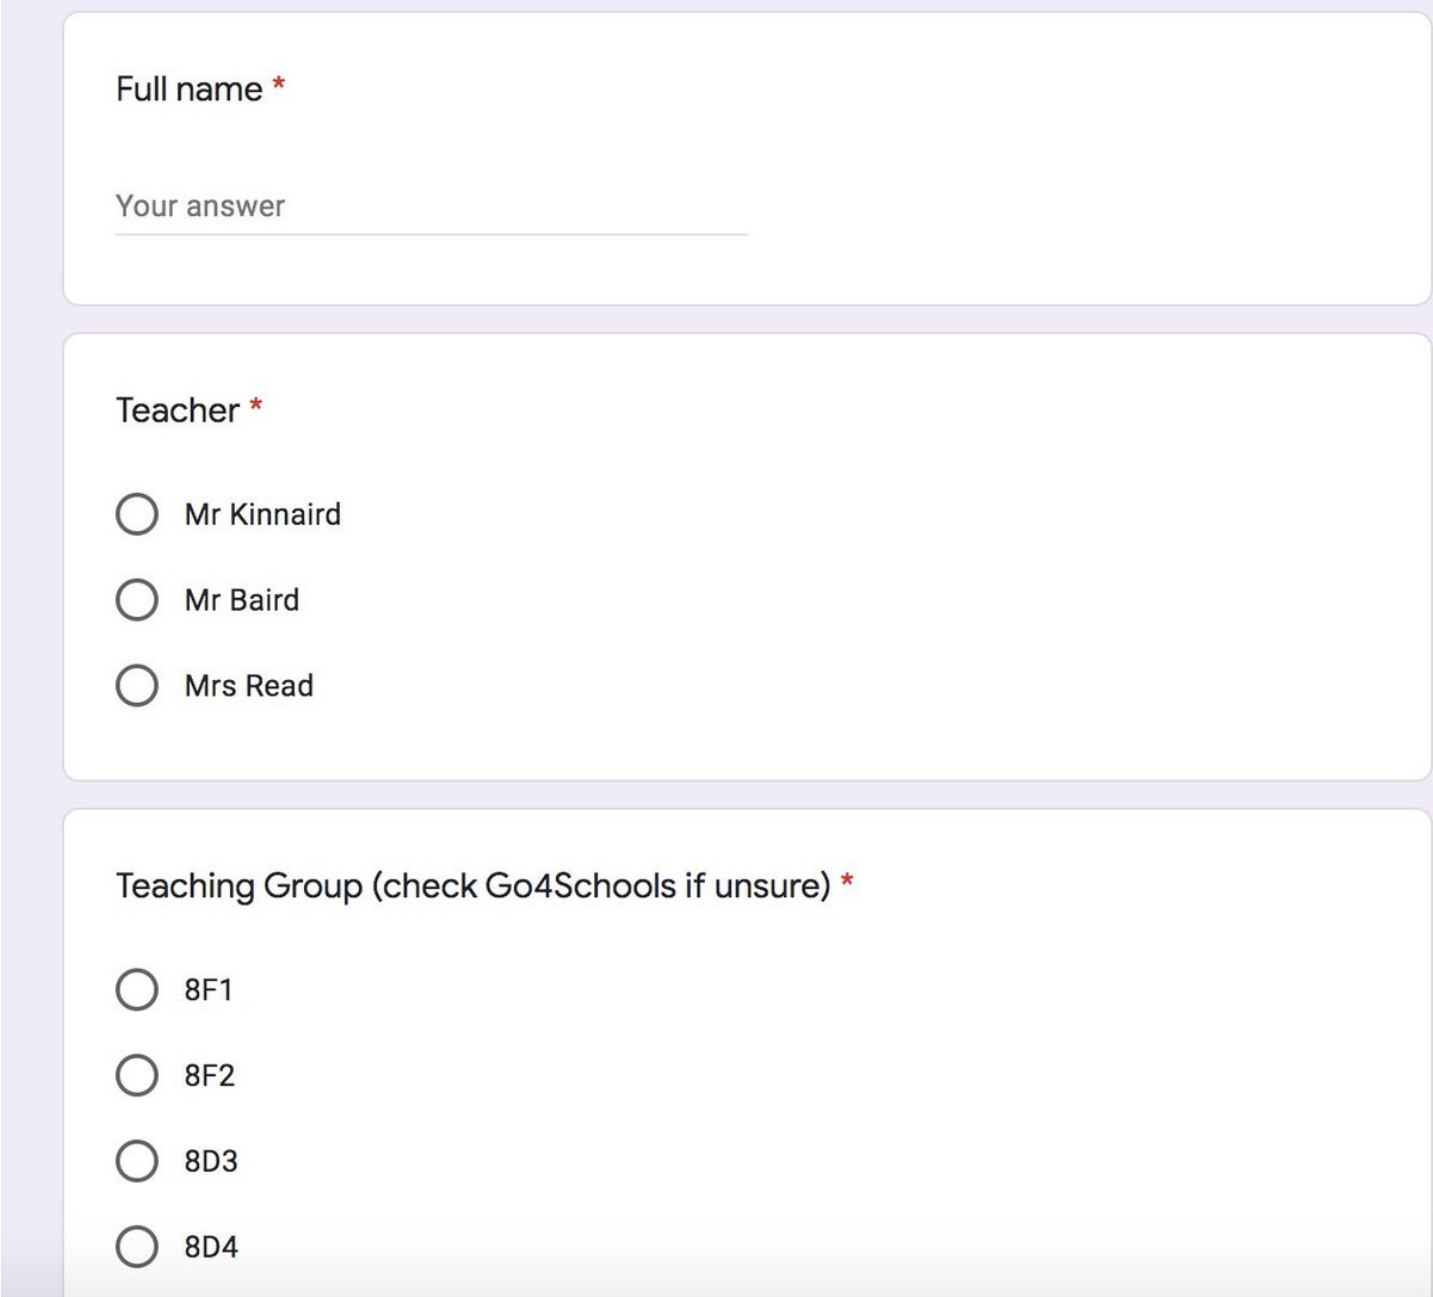

Joe Kinnaird
@josephkinnaird

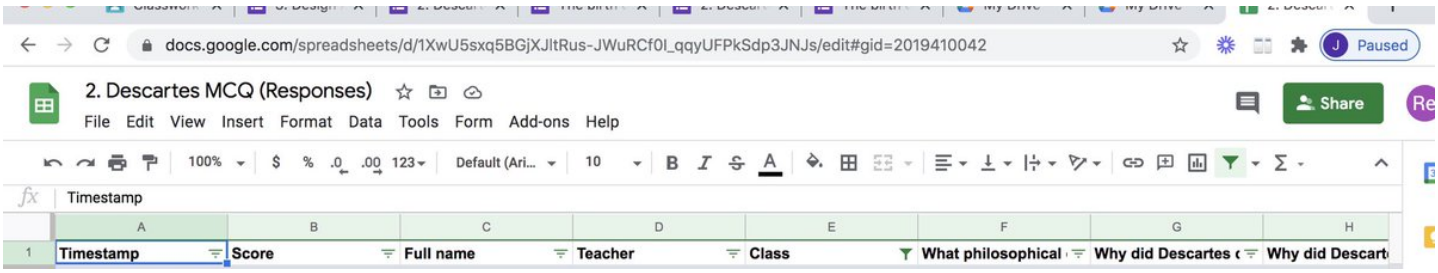

A short thread on tips for using Google Forms.

Firstly, everything I have learned about Google Forms was via @missdcox amazing YouTube tutorials. All the ways we use Google Forms are based on these videos. I would start by watching these: https://t.co/5FnIwEAFlk

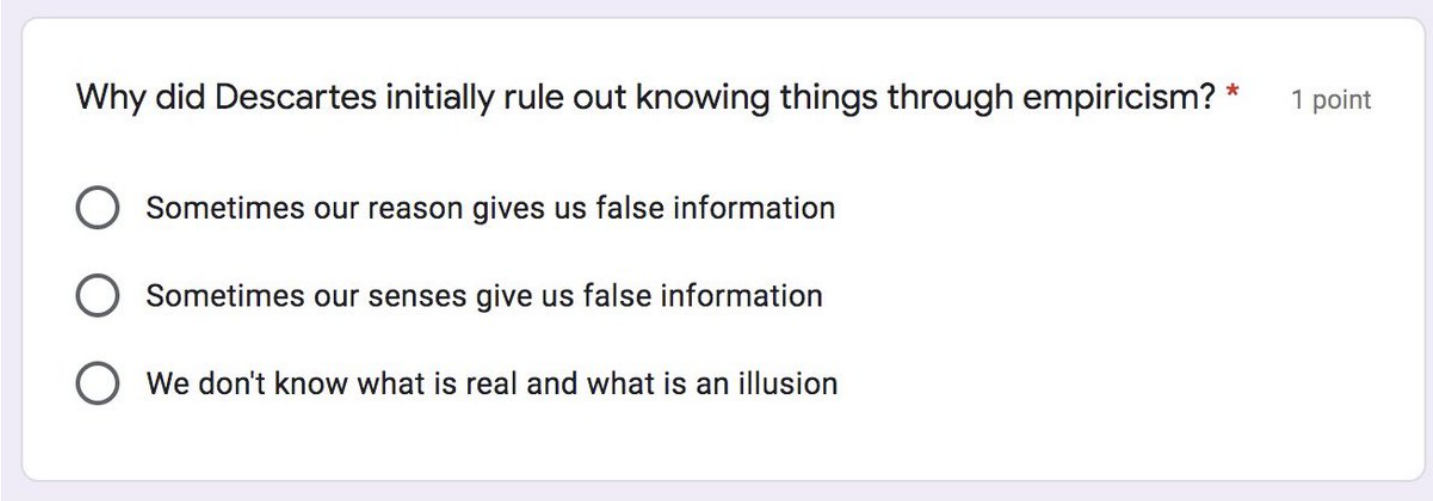

We design Google Forms collaboratively across the department. These are created on the department Google Drive. The use of admin questions at the start of a Google Form enables this.

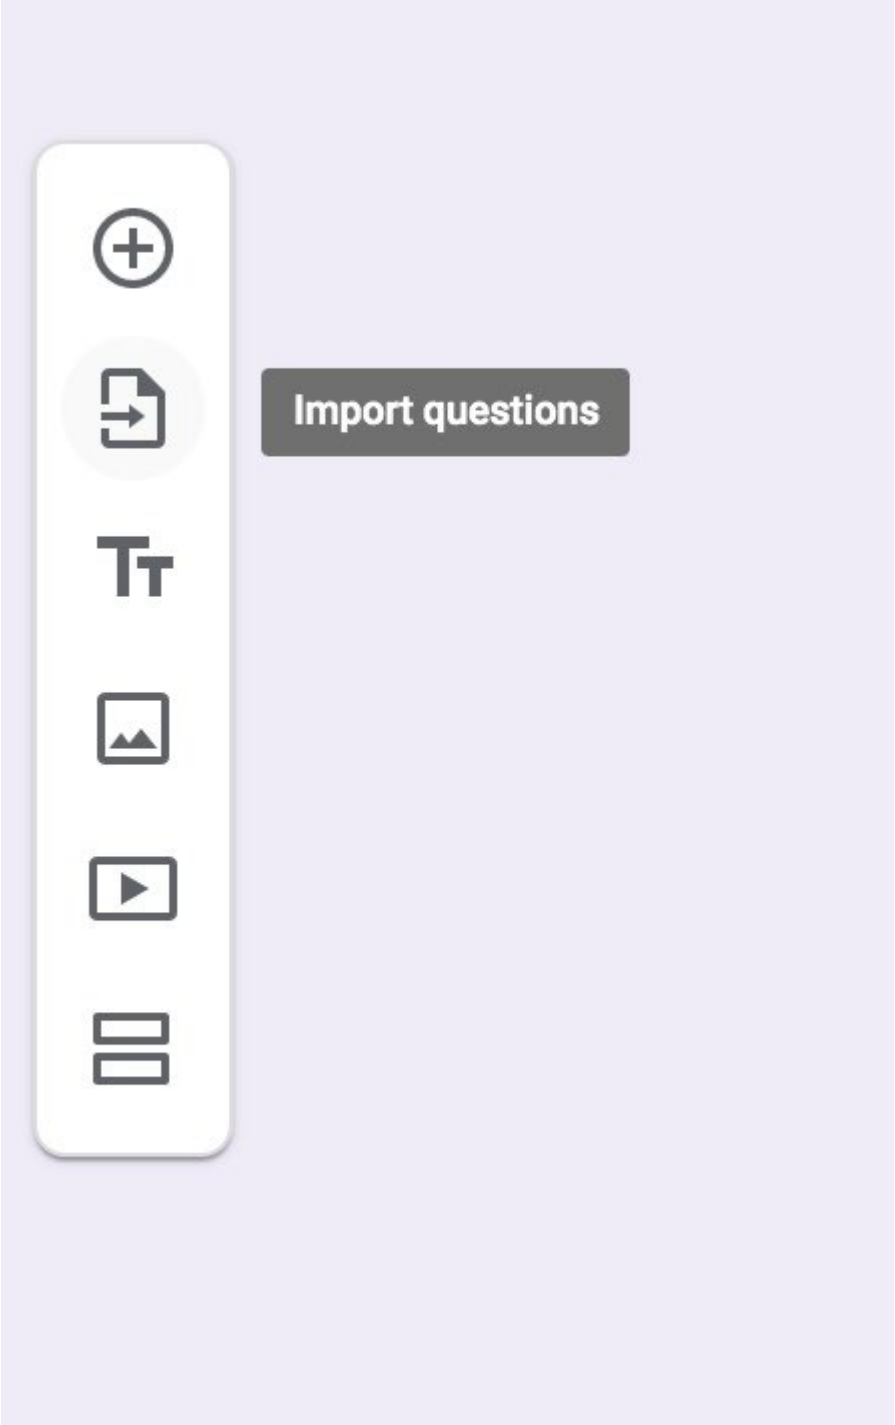

Teachers can access their class responses via the drive. All responses can be downloaded onto a Google Sheet and then filtered according to class/teacher/question.

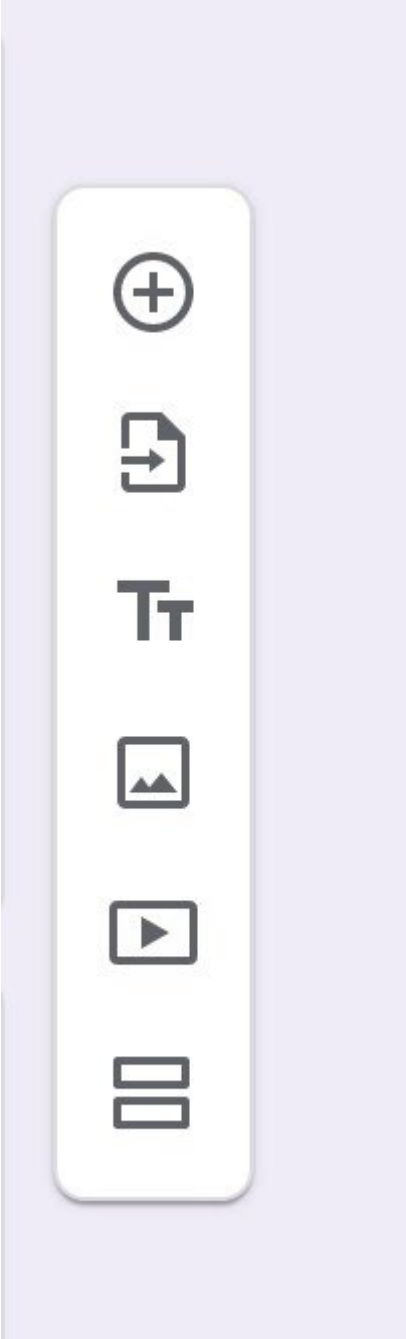

We primarily use Google Forms for MCQs. At KS3, these are set weekly as the final task for students to complete. Most questions are based off knowledge students will have looked at in that week.

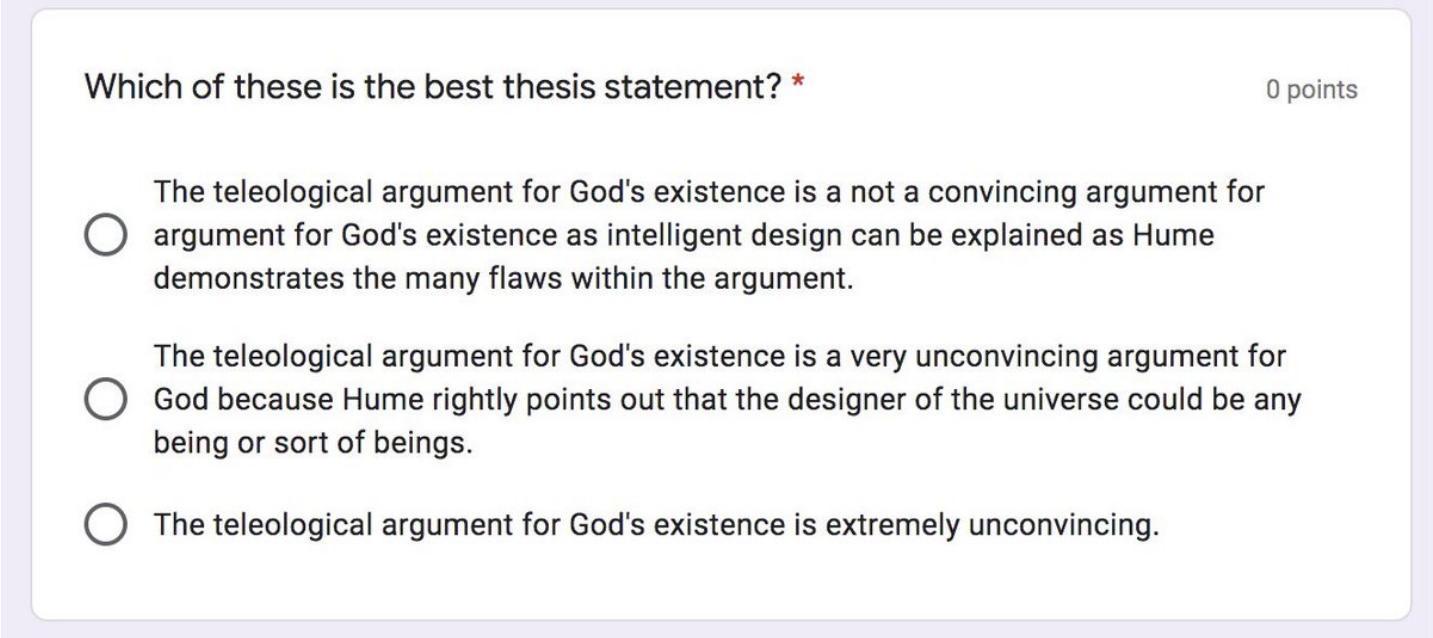

We use questions from previous MCQs so students are revisiting topics. These questions could be ones which students have struggled with or ones which link to knowledge looked at in the week's lesson. To import questions from prior MCQs, click on the import icon in the sidebar.

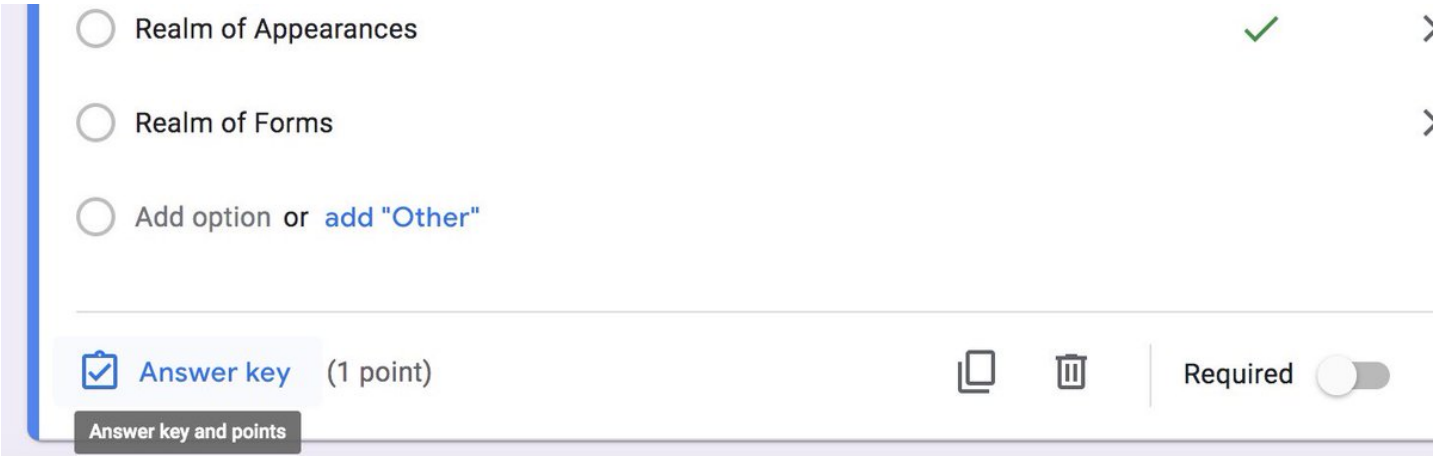

The sidebar allows you to do other things such as add extra question, add image, video or section.

We use MCQs to check both knowledge and skills. Here is an example where we check students understanding of thesis statements.

You can give feedback on correct/incorrect answers. Click on answer key answer and then on add answer feedback. You can provide feedback on correct and incorrect answers. This could include links to attachments or a video which would further support students.

We provide discussion statements where students identify their view. Students really enjoy these as a way of engaging with big questions. We encourage students to discuss their responses with friends and family. Their responses could also be discussed in Google Meet.

1. It is never acceptable to commit a crime. *

	1	2	3	4	5
Strongly agree	○	○	○	○	○	Strongly disagree

2. A person's upbringing is the main reason why some people commit crime. *

	1	2	3	4	5
Strongly agree	○	○	○	○	○	Strongly disagree

3. Community service is an acceptable form of punishment for 'minor' crimes. *

	1	2	3	4	5
Strongly agree	○	○	○	○	○	Strongly disagree

You can also use Forms to get students writing short answers. We haven't done this given the increase of workload in checking answers and also MCQs can be more diagnostic. Nonetheless, they provide another way of receiving student responses.

What is the name Plato gave for the world in which we live? 1 point

Your answer

Submit

Page 1 of 1