Unless you want to ignore the threat of Trump's coup, Trump running our departments, pro Trump people running our inauguration & most of the people in charge of guarding the inauguration are white & therefor many of them are white supremacists & pro Trump. @benFranklin2018

If people were to pay more attention to @benFranklin2018 & take their words seriously, we'd be in a far better place. They argue that posts that one that this tweet is responding to are cringe & instill a false sense of complacency & security. Those voices are promoted on MSM.

This is b/c they don't want to promote any panic among the American people. They also realize that the same corporations serve Trump as them, hence we have a fascist threat.

Something that I notice too is that those who are the most likely to deny that Trump's coup is still going on & that it has a dangerous level of succeeding are white & older. P.o.C & younger people are not as likely to deny the problem.

The part to keep in mind is that older people & white people are more likely to benefit from a Trump dictatorship &/or be indoctrinated w/American exceptionalism. In terms of our gov't, there is no comparison b/t the 1960's & today. Today, our gov't is authoritarian.

Key departments in our gov't have been gutted, purged & the key positions have been taken over by pro Trump people. The inauguration even is headed by Ken Cuccinelli (One of Trump's henchmen) who heads the Department Homeland Security which includes the Secret Service.

In addition, the Pentagon has most definitely lied about vetting national guard, military service members & police officers that are coming into Washington DC. Look, the J.C.o.S do NOT speak for the whole military & neither does Mark Milley. Don't respond w/them please.

The C.I.A & N.S.A have been gutted over the past week or so. This is being done to weaken interdepartmental communication &/or facilitate the chances of success of Trump's attempt to illegally seize power. Plus, people leaving his gov't has only empowered rump as well.

I get that @JoeBiden & @KamalaHarris want to present a level of normalcy in this climate & many Americans are yearning for this. However, this is not the time for this right now. We're in a dire political situation & they're @ risk of being assassinated tomorrow.

Plus, not that far away from DC was an armed rally which was in Virginia. Pro Trump insurrectionists have not gone down to DC b/c they felt it was a trap. That'll definitely change today. The "Free speech" zones are just an invitation for them to keep coming. Bad incentive.

The rest of the world, looks @ us like we're a bunch of fucking naive idiots. The problem is that in many ways, we really are, but it is that we can't handle any mention of the truth that our gov't is on the verge of being overthrown & that the constitution going to save us.

This is also due to when the insurrectionists & foxes guarding the henhouse AKA the un-vetted inauguration guard kill Biden & Harris, it'll create a huge power vacuum that Trump & his henchmen will exploit; they're manufacturing a false flag/an inauguration even for sinister acts
