

Twitter Thread by Value Investor Journal ®

Value Investor Journal ®

@VJ_Rabindranath

What should your goal be as an investor?

Your goal as an investor should simply be to purchase, at a rational price, a part interest in an easily-understandable business whose earnings are virtually certain to be materially higher five, ten and twenty years from now. Over time, you will find only a few companies that meet these standards—so when you see one that qualifies, you should buy a meaningful amount of stock. You must also resist the temptation to stray from your guidelines: If you aren't willing to own a stock for ten years, don't even think about owning it for ten minutes. Put together a portfolio of companies whose aggregate earnings march upward over the years, and so also will the portfolio's market value.

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be 'W.B.' or similar, located at the end of the quote.

Warren Buffett
Letter to Shareholders, 1996