Twitter Thread by D.Muthukrishnan

D.Muthukrishnan
@dmuthuk

Stocks are bought and sold based on short term price movements. Even institutions don't take more than four quarters view. As an individual investor, you can completely ignore short term and take a decadal view. That's why each one gets different result from the same stock.